JOURNAL OF THE SENATE
NINETY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF THE
STATE OF MISSOURI
SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 6, 2010

---

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 noon by Lieutenant Governor Peter Kinder.

The Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“God governs in the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without His aid?” (Benjamin Franklin)

Almighty God, we begin in many ways anew and for that we are grateful. We face a new year that promises even more difficult decisions to be made and our decisions will have even greater impact on the people we serve. So clear our minds of what we have always done and help us to see new and better ways to approach problems so they may open up new pathways and opportunities for us. We need Your guidance so our minds and our hearts are one and our efforts follow where You would have us go. We ask that You be with Senator Shoemyer and his family during their time of grief at the death of his sister Cyola. Grant them Your comfort and grace and be an ever present help, O Lord. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

Senator Engler announced that photographers from KOMU-TV8, the Missourian, the Missouri Digital News and the Jefferson City News Tribune had been given permission to take pictures in the Senate Chamber and the Senate photographer had been given permission to take video and use flash in the Senate Chamber and the Senate Gallery today.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate, that the Secretary of the Senate inform the House of Representatives that the Senate of the Second Regular Session of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly is duly convened and is now in session and ready for consideration of business.

President Pro Tem Shields assumed the dais and delivered the following address:

Opening Address

Senator Charlie Shields, President Pro Tem
Second Regular Session, 95th General Assembly
January 6, 2010

Lt. Governor Kinder, members of the Missouri Senate, our families, friends, and people of Missouri:

On this day just a year ago, I was honored to be elected by you as president pro tem of this great legislative body. Today, I continue to be honored and grateful for the trust you have placed in me. For me and nine others, this day represents the last opening day where we will sit as members of the Missouri Senate.

For those of us who are leaving, it would be easy to use the next four and a half months to reflect on our legislative careers and accept all the appreciation and congratulations that come when one ends a career. And while that would be the easy thing to do, it would not be the right thing to do.

Our state is facing serious challenges: the second budget year in a row where we are working with less revenue than the year before, we need to get Missourians back to work in lasting and growing industries that pay well and offer benefits, and we must restore confidence in our elected officials with ethics reforms. We need all 34 Missouri Senators working together to meet these challenges.

As we have recognized those of us who are entering our twilight, I extend a warm welcome to our newest member – the senator from the 4th.

Senator, you now join a select few in your new journey as a state senator. We support you as you work to rebuild the faith the people of the Fourth District may have lost in our democratic process and elected leaders.

The career-ending mistakes made by three elected officials last year remind us we are all human, and therefore fallible. We are a body of everyday people chosen by the public. And as humans, mistakes are unavoidable. But we must strive for higher ethics standards, because ethics violations are unacceptable. They are unacceptable legally, morally and, most of all, because they can destroy the public's trust in our democratic process. And without their trust, democracy fails. All of us who hold the public's trust must address this issue this year.

That is why I have proposed that we once and for all put an end to even the appearance of pay-to-play politics. We must find a way to ban contributions from lobbyists during session as we tried several years ago. We must finally give teeth to the state's Ethics Commission by creating the role of an independent investigator and we must hold our staff to the same levels of accountability that we hold ourselves.

These are my ideas, but there are many more that have already been introduced. I welcome your input and seek help from all of you in this effort.

Our toughest challenge this year will be the budget. To date, our state's revenue is down by 10.6 percent, while it is estimated at the end of the fiscal year we will only be down by 6.4 percent or more than $1 billion. It has also been forecast that growth will be below average in Fiscal Year 2011.

The good news is that last year we were prudent and reserved more than half – or $1 Billion - of the state's federal stabilization money to use in the upcoming budget. But those dollars will run out.

We will have to make tough decisions to fund our priorities without a tax increase. And hear me, we will not raise taxes.

We are facing an on-going budget crisis and to succeed, we must have a governor who will do his job and present a balanced budget that is not short-sighted. Last fall, I asked Governor Nixon to join us in beginning an extended budget planning cycle. While state budgeting is done yearly, it is of the utmost importance that every budget decision be made with the consideration of its impact on future years in mind. We must not be short-sighted. Cooperation is the key to providing necessary governmental services in a way taxpayers can afford.

The solution to our budget situation is to put people back to work in good-paying jobs with benefits. Our state's revenue is reliant on people working and participating in our economy.

We must focus on creating jobs to improve the economy and help Missouri families thrive. We must give the new Economic Development Director David Kerr the tools he needs to succeed in growing Missouri businesses and getting new businesses to relocate here. We must examine all ideas, including closing funds, innovative tax structures, and incentives for small businesses to keep and recruit better paying jobs with benefits.

Plus, we must recognize that the best economic development tool is an educated workforce. We must provide top-notch educational opportunities to our citizens – along the entire education spectrum.

Last year, Missouri's highest court recognized that we are giving our children, no matter where they live, an equal opportunity for a great education based on the funding formula we passed in 2005. The Supreme Court found that the formula, which is based on students' needs rather than local wealth, has a rational basis.

Since we created and passed the new formula, we have been dedicated to fully funding it. In the four years of the phase-in, we have increased K-12 funding by nearly $450 million without a tax increase. This year, we must continue that commitment and make education a top budget priority.

We must also work to make sure that more of our students have an educational experience past high school. We must build on the programs we have passed to continue to make college affordable to as many Missouri students as possible. We must support new, innovative and specialized programs that prepare our students to compete for quality jobs. And we must think outside the box for ways to help adults find their way back to the classroom for retraining.

In 1992, the voters of our state passed term limits for legislators, no more than 8 years in the House and 8 years in the Senate. Almost since the passage of that amendment, observers of state government have argued whether term limits are good or bad for our citizens and our state. Supporters argue term limits end the days of back room deals and cronyism while those against term limits say too much power and decision-making is shifted to staff and lobbyists.

I believe these are interesting arguments for political scientists, but unproductive arguments for those charged with making public policy. What I am proposing today is that we change the discussion from the merits versus frustrations of term limits to a discussion of how to make government work best for Missourians in a term-limited environment. Simply put, our terms may be limited to 8 years, but the way we think about our vision for Missouri's future should never be limited.

Last year when I spoke to you, I talked about how our state government is a $23 billion organization operating without a long-term strategic plan. I challenged us to shift our way of governing from being reactionary and year-to-year to a way with vision and purpose. You answered that challenge and we created three committees designed to craft a vision of the kind of state Missouri can be in the year 2020 and the plan to get there.

I commend the work of our first-term members who serve on these committees and their chairmen – the senator from the 15th, the junior senator from St. Charles and the senator from Johnson County. To date, these committees have reviewed our current operations in the areas of job creation, healthcare and education; invited the public and gained their input in determining what our future goals should be; and have begun the arduous task of creating a long-term strategy for how we will get there.

This legislative session, I will propose legislation to make long-term planning a permanent part of the legislative process. We must always be thinking about the future for a better Missouri and have a plan on how we get there. We need a three-year plan, a five-year plan and, more importantly, a ten-year plan that will transcend our term limits.

Ten of us leave this year. The same will be true two years from now and this revolving door will continue to spin. Some have said term limits have given us a Senate with four years of "I don't know" followed by four years of "I don't care." I propose the new view is eight years of long-term solutions for our future, so that we may all work to create a better Missouri for generations to come.

As I end today's remarks, a quote from Woodrow Wilson comes to mind...

"You are not here merely to make a living. You are here in order to enable the world to live more amply, with greater vision, with a finer spirit of hope and achievement. You are here to enrich the world, and you impoverish yourself if you forget the errand."

As Wilson said, let's get to work.

Thank you.

President Kinder assumed the Chair.

In accordance with Section 9.141, RSMo, the Bill of Rights was read.

Senator Bartle assumed the Chair.

RESOLUTIONS

Senator Dempsey, joined by the entire membership, offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 1325

Whereas, the members of the Missouri Senate feel it is altogether right and proper to pause from time to time to observe milestone events in the lives of outstanding Missouri citizens, particularly momentous occasions in the lives of those individuals who have devoted their professional lives to public service; and

Whereas, the members now pause to recognize Patricia L. Buxton of Jefferson City, Missouri, who retired from her position as the Revisor of Statutes for the Missouri General Assembly on December 31, 2009, after an illustrious thirty-two-year career; and

Whereas, respected and admired by her peers and colleagues, Patricia Buxton has an abiding love for the law and believes that the law should be in the hands of the people, a commitment she has proven time and again during her distinguished legal career with her attention to detail and willingness to share her legal knowledge and expertise with all who requested her opinion; and

Whereas, a native of Springfield, Missouri, Patricia Buxton was admitted as an undergraduate to Northwestern University at the delicate age of sixteen years; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton graduated from the University of Missouri School of Law in 1959, along with Missouri Governor Mel Carnahan, Lieutenant Governor William C. Phelps, and Bob Griffin, the longest-serving Speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton and her husband, the late Jerry Buxton, were the first married couple to graduate together from the University of Missouri School of Law; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton began working for the State of Missouri in 1977 as the Assistant Revisor of Statutes after years of private practice; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton was named the Revisor of Statutes in September 2002, and she is the first and only woman to hold that position; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton served as the Missouri Legislative Staff Representative for the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton was sworn before the bar of the United States Supreme Court, qualifying her to argue before the highest court in the land; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton is an avid fan of her beloved football and basketball Missouri Tigers, a devotion made apparent by the MU memorabilia that lined the walls and shelves of her Capitol office and by the players' names she chose to give to her pet cats; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton is the devoted mother of Malcolm Buxton and Mark and Kimberly Buxton and the doting grandmother of Lily Buxton; and

Whereas, it is an honor and a pleasure for the members of the Missouri Senate to recognize exemplary Missouri citizens like Patricia Buxton:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, extend our most sincere gratitude to Patricia Buxton on this illustrious occasion, with our very best wishes for continued success and happiness; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for presentation to Patricia Buxton as a measure of our affection and of our esteem.

Senator Engler offered Senate Resolution No. 1326, regarding Richard Middleton, Leadwood, which was adopted.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Nodler offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 33

WHEREAS, a strong national economy and the financial well-being of millions of citizens in Missouri and across America are dependent upon the continued financial vitality of our small businesses and family farms; and

WHEREAS, the economic viability of our small businesses and family farms is directly tied to the ability of our state and the nation's community depository financial institutions to provide needed credit and to permit their borrowers to restructure existing debt in a responsible and reasonable manner; and

WHEREAS, problems which now pervade our economy but are expected to be transitory in nature have placed severe financial pressure on a number of small businesses and family farms and have, in turn, resulted in escalating levels of loan defaults and depressed property values; and

WHEREAS, these economic difficulties combined with a harsher examination environment and increases in required capitalization levels by regulators have made it extremely difficult, and often impossible, for community depository institutions to maintain their capital at levels currently mandated by their regulators without severely limiting the ability of many of these community depository institutions to continue to make the same levels of credit available as prior to this period of economic distress; and

WHEREAS, the foregoing have had and are continuing to have spiraling downward effects on the ability of many small businesses and family farms to remain viable employers and strong components of our state's and the nation's economies; and

WHEREAS, under difficult economic conditions which occurred in the late 1980's, federal and state agencies that regulate community depository institutions developed appropriate capital forbearance, trouble debt restructuring accounting practices, and other policies to assist those institutions that were well-managed; and

WHEREAS, these measures were undertaken to ensure that these community depository institutions remained viable sources of financial strength for their communities and to assist them in providing borrowers reasonable and responsible allocations of credit so as to enable deserving borrowers to weather temporary economic pressures, maintain access to reliable sources of credit, and remain as important sources of employment and economic strength, and

WHEREAS, members of Congress are increasingly recognizing the need for regulatory forbearance to support community depository institution lending throughout our country, as well as to support the small business and family farm customers of community depository institutions. To date, this recognition has been in the form of numerous Congressional hearings and meetings with community depository institutions and their federal depository institution regulators, as well as in the form of the recent House Resolution introduced by Representative Coffman (CO-R); and originally co-sponsored by Representatives Perlmutter (CO-D) and Luetkemeyer (MO-R); the letter to the federal depository institution regulators from Representatives Frank (MA-D) and Minnick (ID-D); and the letter to the federal depository institution regulators from Representative Skelton (MO-D) all calling for regulatory forbearance, temperance, and measured oversight of community depository institutions so as to not unduly restrict access to credit:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby encourage the Congress of the United States to urge the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Federal Reserve Board, and all other agencies, state and federal, that regulate the conduct and affairs of community depository institutions, to develop appropriate policies that will:

(1) Permit well-managed community depository institutions to temporarily maintain capital at levels less than that currently required, conditioned upon the submission and regulatory approval of an appropriate plan to restore capital levels by a date certain as determined by the appropriate agencies; and

(2) Permit well-managed community depository institutions to temporarily account for troubled debt restructuring in a manner which allows a loan to continue to be carried on the institution's books without loss recognition if the loan is formally restructured in a manner so that it is probable that the borrower can repay the loan under the new terms and that the total future cash payments at least equal the loan amount on the institution's books; and

(3) Ensure that field examiners are not inappropriately classifying loans based on judgments about, or relationship of, various types of loans, to currently stressed sectors of the economy apart from the ability of the loans to show likelihood of repayment based on positive cash flows, ample amounts of collateral, and other mitigating factors; and

(4) Include such additional temporary accommodations for well-managed community depository institutions as the agencies determine are appropriate, including regulatory forbearance similar to that provided in the 1980's, to assist those institutions in remaining vital sources of financial strength for their communities, while maintaining needed standards to assure the continued financial integrity of those institutions and communities.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Federal Reserve Board, and the members of the Missouri congressional delegation.

Senators Lembke, Cunningham, Rupp, Purgason, Mayer, Nodler and Schmitt offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 34

WHEREAS, in the American system, sovereignty is defined as final authority, and the people, not government, are sovereign; and

WHEREAS, the people of the state of Missouri are not united with the people of the other forty-nine states that comprise the United States of America on a principle of unlimited submission to their federal government; and

WHEREAS, all power not delegated by the people to government is retained; and

WHEREAS, the people of the several states comprising the United States of America created the federal government to be their agent for certain enumerated purposes only; and

WHEREAS, the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States reads as follows: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people"; and

WHEREAS, the Tenth Amendment defines the total scope of federal power as being that which has been delegated by the people to the federal government in the Constitution of the United States, and also that which is necessary and proper to advancing those enumerated powers; with the rest being left to state governments or the people themselves; and

WHEREAS, powers, too numerous to list for the purposes of this resolution, have been exercised, past and present, by federal administrations, under the leadership of both Democrats and Republicans, which infringe on the sovereignty of the people of this state, and may further violate the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, when powers are assumed by the federal government which have not been delegated to it by the people, a nullification of the act is the rightful remedy; that without this remedy, the people of Missouri would be under the dominion, absolute and unlimited, of whoever might exercise this right of judgment for them:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby affirm the sovereignty of the people of Missouri under the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States over all powers not otherwise delegated to the federal government by the Constitution of the United States; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution shall serve as a notice and demand to the federal government to cease and desist any and all activities outside the scope of their constitutionally-delegated powers; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and each member of the Missouri congressional delegation.

Senator Schmitt offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 36

WHEREAS, the federal public debt has surpassed twelve trillion dollars, which equates to tens of thousands of dollars for each person in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008, commonly known as the “bailout plan” authorized the United States Treasury to spend up to seven hundred billion dollars with little or no transparency or accountability regarding the use of taxpayers' money; and

WHEREAS, continued deficit spending demonstrates an unwillingness or inability of both the federal executive and legislative branches to spend no more than available revenues; and

WHEREAS, fiscal irresponsibility at the federal level is creating an extraordinary financial burden to be carried by future generations of this country; and

WHEREAS, the federal government's seemingly unlimited borrowing of money raises questions about the fundamental principles and responsibilities of government, with potentially profound consequences for this nation and its people, making it an appropriate subject for limitation by the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, the Constitution of the United States vests the ultimate responsibility to approve or disapprove constitutional amendments with the people, as represented by their elected state legislatures:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge Congress to adopt a balanced budget amendment to the United States Constitution that requires a balance in the projected revenues and expenditures of the United States federal government when preparing and approving the annual federal budget; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and members of the Missouri congressional delegation.

Senator Schmitt offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 37

WHEREAS, recently in the Senate version of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (HR 3590), a special deal was reportedly made by Nebraska Senator Ben Nelson whereby the state of Nebraska is permanently exempted from bearing the costs of newly eligible Nebraska Medicaid enrollees; and

WHEREAS, such exemption has not been afforded to Missouri or any of the other 48 states; and

WHEREAS, all other states except Nebraska will be required to allocate substantial sums to accommodate the federal health care bill's new Medicaid mandates; and

WHEREAS, it has also been reported that Senator Nelson's vote for passage of the bill was secured only after the deal was made; and

WHEREAS, this "Nebraska Compromise" strikes a blow to the nation's collective confidence in elected officials in Washington, D.C. and violates basic notions of fundamental fairness:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby call on Missouri Attorney General Chris Koster to join the 13 other state attorneys general from across the nation in challenging the special deal; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Attorney General Koster thoroughly review the constitutionality and legality of this suspect provision in HR 3590 and stand up for Missouri taxpayers; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Attorney General Koster, the Governor, and each member of the Missouri congressional delegation.

Senator Rupp offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 38

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly, acting with the best of intentions, applied to the Congress of the United States by resolution in accordance with Article V, Constitution of the United States, for a constitutional convention for the purpose of amending the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3, was passed by the Eighty-second General Assembly of the State of Missouri in 1983 specifically proposing a constitutional convention for the sole purpose of adopting an amendment requiring a balanced federal budget; and

WHEREAS, over the course of time, the will of the people of the State of Missouri has changed with regards to Missouri's previous call for a constitutional convention to amend the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, certain persons or states have called for a constitutional convention on issues that may be directly in opposition to the will of the people of this state; and

WHEREAS, the people of this state do not want their previous applications for a constitutional convention to be aggregated with those calls for a convention from other states; and

WHEREAS, former Justice of the United States Supreme Court Warren E. Burger, former Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court Arthur J. Goldberg and many other leading constitutional scholars are in general agreement that a convention, notwithstanding whatever limitation might be placed on it by the call for a convention, may propose sweeping constitutional changes or, by virtue of the authority of a constitutional convention, redraft the Constitution of the United States creating an imminent peril to the well established rights of citizens and to the duties of various levels of government; and

WHEREAS, the Constitution of the United States has been amended many times in the history of this nation and may be amended many more times without the need to resort to a constitutional convention, and has been interpreted for more than two hundred years and found to be a sound document that protects the lives and liberties of citizens; and

WHEREAS, there is no need for, and in fact there is great danger in, a new constitution or in opening the Constitution of the United States to radical changes, the adoption of which could create legal chaos in this nation and begin the process of another two centuries of litigation over its meaning and interpretation; and

WHEREAS, changes or amendments that may be needed in the present Constitution of the United States may be proposed and enacted without resorting to a constitutional convention by using the process provided in the Constitution and previously used throughout the history of this nation:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the Missouri General Assembly hereby repeals, rescinds, cancels, renders null and void and supersedes any and all existing applications to the Congress of the United States for a constitutional convention under Article V of the Constitution of the United States for any purpose, whether limited or general; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri General Assembly urges the legislature of each and every state that has applied to Congress for either a general or limited constitutional convention to repeal and rescind their applications; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the Administrator of General Services in Washington, D.C., each member of Missouri's congressional delegation, and the Secretaries of State and presiding officers of both houses of the legislatures of each state in the Union.

FIFTH DAY—THURSDAY, JANUARY 14, 2010

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore we will not fear though the earth should change.” (Psalm 46:1)

Gracious God, we do come to You in this time of grief for the nearly half a million who have died and the millions injured and homeless for the earth has changed and the rumbling continues. We pray that there will be an outpouring of response to relieve the suffering, heal the hurting and burying of the dead in Haiti. We pray You will provide hope and comfort and open our hearts to those in need. We are so mindful of the frailty of life and as we return to those we love may we be even more aware of the blessings we have been given and the gift of grace of life You continue to provide us for which we give You thanks and praise. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 18

WHEREAS, the current health care proposal being debated in the United States Congress will raise federal taxes and force new taxes on Missourians, which are detrimental to Missouri's economy; and

WHEREAS, Missouri families and employers may be facing even more mandates that drive up costs if the United States Congress passes the current health care proposal; and

WHEREAS, there has been a complete lack of transparency during the final negotiations to craft this legislation and special deals have already emerged that are going to put Missouri at a disadvantage; and

WHEREAS, the unfunded mandates and special deals will place greater pressure on Missouri taxpayers and put funding for education, mental health services, public safety, and all other essential state services at risk:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge our Missouri Congressional delegation to vote against the current health care proposal and develop health care reform that is affordable and accessible to all legal residents and to further request that our elected statewide officials express their respective positions on the passage of the current health care proposal and send a unified message to our Missouri Congressional delegation; and

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, Governor Jay Nixon, escorted the Governor to the dais where he delivered the State of the State Address to the Joint Assembly:

State of the State Address

Thank you, Speaker Richard, President Pro-Tem Shields, Leaders Callahan and LeVota, Judges of the Missouri Supreme Court, Lieutenant Governor Kinder, state officials, members of the General Assembly and members of my cabinet.

Welcome honored guests and my fellow Missourians.

It's a privilege to be here this evening. I am blessed to have with me, Missouri's First Lady, my wife Georganne, and our two sons, Jeremiah and Will.

One year ago, as we gathered in this very room, a massive ice storm struck southern Missouri.

Miles of power lines went down, plunging tens of thousands of people into bitter cold and darkness.

I'll never forget what I saw in the days and weeks that followed. Everywhere I went, people of every color and creed were joining hands to help their neighbors.

They brought blankets and home-cooked meals to Kennett.

They came with chainsaws and pickup trucks to Thayer.

They turned school gyms and church basements into havens of warmth and safety in Doniphan, Naylor and Poplar Bluff.

They didn't ask how anybody voted. They didn't care who was rich or poor.

They came together in a crisis, because that's what the people of Missouri do.

That's a powerful lesson for us here tonight: The worst of times brings out the best in us.

And when the people of Missouri join hands and work together we can accomplish anything.

That makes me proud of our state, proud to be a Missourian and proud to be your Governor.

Tonight, our thoughts and prayers go out to the people of Haiti, who are suffering in the tragic aftermath of the massive earthquake on January 12. There are many ways Missourians can help. I encourage you to go to our Web site, MO.gov, and learn more about what you can do.

From the moment I took the oath of office, I have focused my energy on one thing: turning this economy around.

Our mission is clear:

We must keep the jobs we have, and create thousands more.

We must build a granite foundation for Missouri's future growth.

And we must balance the budget without raising taxes.

Tonight, I will review some of the hard-won accomplishments of the year behind us... address the challenges ahead of us ... highlight the opportunities we must seize now to spur job growth ... and lay out my long-term strategy to create a vibrant future for our state.

But before I get to the heart of my economic message, I'd like to recognize the brave Missourians, in all branches of our military, who have left their families in our care, to fight terror around the world.

With us tonight is Specialist Michael Thomas, a Citizen-Soldier with the Missouri National Guard. Specialist Thomas was serving with the Missouri National Guard's Agri-Business Development Team II in Afghanistan when his convoy was hit by a suicide bomber in March 2009. As the gunner on his vehicle, Specialist Thomas sustained a direct hit from the blast. For his sacrifice, he was awarded the Purple Heart.

Specialist Thomas, as Commander in Chief of the Missouri National Guard, I commend you for your service to our country. You represent every man and woman who has ever fought for our freedom and liberty... in every time... and on every field of battle.

Specialist Thomas, on their behalf, please stand and accept the gratitude of your state.

Every action we took in 2009, and every action we will take in 2010, is set against the backdrop of global forces that constrain our nation's economy. That is the nature of the complex world we live in.

But it will not determine Missouri's destiny. We will.

Our most pressing economic challenges – creating jobs, seizing opportunities for growth, and balancing the budget – are too important to be sidetracked by partisan bickering. That would betray the trust put in us by the people.

We also need to take the long view, and be wise stewards of the blessings that make Missouri so special: our families, our communities, and our God-given natural resources. In everything we do this year, we must put our differences aside – and put Missouri first.

I'm an optimist by nature, and nothing I have seen this year has diminished my optimism. My vision of the future is colored by my abiding faith in the resourcefulness and determination of the people of Missouri.

I want the little girl who someday cracks the code of cancer to be a product of Missouri schools.

I want the little boy who invents clean fuel to heat our homes and power our cars to be a native son.

And I want thousands of Missourians working in high-tech jobs, using technology we can only dream of today.

That's the future I see for Missouri.

And to reach it, I want Missouri to be first in job creation.

First in education. First in innovation. First in quality of life. And first in leading this nation to recovery.

Everywhere I've traveled in the last 12 months, from K.C. to Cape, I've heard the same refrain from businesses large and small: "Give us the tools, help us train the workers, and we'll do the rest."

Last year, our bi-partisan jobs bill helped put more of these tools in place.

We ramped up financial incentives for businesses that offered good jobs and health insurance. And we focused state resources on targeted, fast-track training programs to prepare a workforce ready to step into those jobs.

Let me give you a few examples of our success.

Express Scripts in St. Louis, used Missouri BUILD incentives to expand here, rather than Pennsylvania. Now it's building a huge, automated facility for filling medical prescriptions. And it will create nearly 300 jobs paying an average wage of more than $40,000 a year.

McLane, a grocery distribution company owned by Warren Buffett, used state incentives to build a large new facility in Republic that will create 250 full-time jobs with good wages. If Warren Buffett is bullish on Missouri, it's good for all of us.

Smith Electric Vehicles makes all-electric, zero-emission trucks. It's building a new plant in Kansas City using our Quality Jobs incentives. That plant will create 200 jobs, and pump millions of dollars into the local economy.

And the list goes on.

While we were helping large employers, we didn't forget about the small businesses that are a mainstay of Missouri's economy.

We eliminated the franchise tax for 16,000 small businesses like Kelley's Furniture in Kirksville, so they could expand and add jobs.

We also started a small business loan program. One of those loans went to Beth Daniels, who owns a company in Eureka that makes educational games. Last year, Beth was worried she wouldn't have enough games in stock to fill holiday orders. So she used her loan to build up inventory and hire another employee. Please welcome one of the Show-Me State's budding entrepreneurs, Beth Daniels.

Job-creation initiatives only succeed if there are trained workers ready to step into those jobs. So we upped our investment in training people.

Last fall, we began implementing our Caring for Missourians initiative to train more Missourians for careers in high-demand health care fields – including nursing and dentistry, optometry and medical technology. Over the next two years, we'll be enrolling at least 1,300 additional students in these programs at our two- and four-year colleges, and preparing these students to meet our state's critical health care needs.

We also put more money into accelerated programs at community colleges to help dislocated workers retrain and get back into the job market – fast.

It's clear that our key business incentives and workforce investments are bearing fruit. But much more needs to be done. That's why my top legislative priority this year is my 2010 Jobs Plan.

It contains three key components.

First, we must leverage every tool and tactic to help loyal Missouri businesses thrive.

Second, we must outrun and outfox our rivals to recruit new high-tech companies to Missouri.

And third, we must train a workforce that's ready-to-roll, and second-to-none.

The Missouri First initiative is my loyalty program for businesses that are already here. They'll go to the head of the line for financial incentives to help expand plants or payrolls.

We'll give an extra bump to businesses that have been in Missouri longer than five years. After all, these are the companies who have given generations of Missourians steady paychecks. They're also the folks who paid the taxes that built our roads, our schools and our parks.

Given Missouri's need to create jobs quickly, helping loyal businesses accelerate their growth just may be the smartest investment we can make – with the fastest return.

As your Governor, I'll continue to push hard to recruit new businesses to Missouri. And make no mistake: I've got a competitive streak.

That brings me to the second part of my jobs plan, the Missouri Science and Innovation Reinvestment Act: MOSIRA.

Missouri is already home to 1,000 biological science companies. This is an area where we can add muscle to existing strength.

MOSIRA will reinvest a small part of the taxes paid by existing bio-tech firms in Missouri, to recruit new ones. It will create a stable pool of funds to increase access to capital. And it will help turn scientific breakthroughs into commercial successes.

We want our bio-tech companies to grow because that creates more jobs. But just as important are the corollaries of that growth: a culture of excellence and collaboration, a forum where brilliant minds find kindred spirits, a hotbed of ideas that spark innovation, and a nexus of risk and reward, where start-ups thrive.

Synbiotics is a perfect example of how this synergy works to Missouri's advantage. Synbiotics is a global leader in animal health. A couple of years ago, its president and CEO, Paul Hays, decided to move the corporate headquarters and research labs from San Diego to Kansas City.

Paul says there are five reasons why he brought his business to Missouri:

First, the opportunities for synergy and collaboration with other companies and scientists in Missouri's booming animal health corridor.

Second, proximity to his customers.

Third, financial incentives from Missouri, Platte County and Kansas City.

Fourth, Missouri's outstanding work ethic; and

Last, but not least, Paul's a Mizzou grad, class of '83.

All I can add to that is welcome back, and Go Tigers!

MOSIRA will help recruit more dynamic, science and technology companies like Synbiotics to Missouri. That's exactly what we want to do. That brings me to the third part of my 2010 Jobs Plan. It focuses on Missouri's greatest asset: our people.

"Training for Tomorrow" is a new initiative to train more Missourians for jobs in growing fields, like lab techs, nursing aides, surveyors and mechanics. It gives community colleges the flexibility to enlarge training programs where there's high demand, and ensures there are enough workers to meet that demand.

In addition, I've proposed a 20 percent increase in funding for customized training programs tailored to the needs of specific high-tech industries. By matching industry's needs with training programs, more Missourians will be able to find work quickly.

Much of this training will take place at Missouri's excellent community colleges. There's no place where the link between education and employment is stronger.

I was at Crowder College in Neosho not long ago. President Alan Marble told me that if someone is out of work, they should go to the Dean's office today. They can sign up for a career training program – in alternative energy, health care, or drafting and design – and if they're willing to give it their all, he'll help find them a job.

Tonight, I call on you to show that same can-do spirit. Let's roll up our sleeves and pass this 2010 Jobs Plan.

There's another group of Missourians eager for work, who have real-world job experience and first-rate training from Uncle Sam. I'm talking about our veterans.

When I was in Iraq and Afghanistan last summer, the troops invariably asked me two questions: "How is Pujols doing?" and "Will there be a job for me when I get home?"

Tonight, I'm proud to announce the creation of "Show-Me Heroes," our new jobs initiative just for our veterans. The leader of this effort is Lieutenant Colonel Alan Rohlfing of the Missouri Army National Guard.

He'll be calling on employers all over the state, telling them about our disciplined, dedicated, hard-working veterans. When a job comes open, I want a veteran's resume on the top of the stack, so they get first crack at an interview.

I'm asking every employer in this state to step up and show that Missouri hires its veterans.

For veterans who are ready to retire, Missouri's also the first place to look, because we're going to continue to phase out the state income tax on military pensions until it's zero dollars.

Veterans are not the only ones who can get tax relief in Missouri this year. We're also helping homebuyers.

We're putting $15 million into an effort to give the housing industry a boost and help more Missourians afford the American Dream.

If you want to buy a house in 2010, the state will pick up your property taxes for the first year, for up to $1,250. And we're offering another $500 in tax relief if you make that house more energy efficient.

This will help put thousands of Missouri families in new homes, jumpstart the housing market and give our skilled tradesmen more green jobs.

In this tough economy, we've also got to protect vulnerable Missourians from a voracious predator: payday loan companies.

Hard times are like fertilizer for payday lenders; they just pop up overnight, like mushrooms. For folks caught in a bad situation – maybe they lost their job, or the car broke down – payday loans may seem like the best option. But Missouri families shouldn't get fleeced.

According to the most recent data, the average payday loan in Missouri was $290 – at 430 percent interest. And even at those exorbitant rates, you know how many loans were reported? Close to three million.

Missouri laws aren't tough enough to protect folks caught in this downward spiral of debt. We need to stand up for them, and pass meaningful payday loan reform this year.

By any measure, 2009 was a rough year. In one way or another, the downturn hit everybody's pocketbook.

Missouri unemployment ran under the national average, but was still too high. A lot of friends and neighbors were out of work. Too many Missourians lost their homes, farms and businesses. Folks who hung onto their jobs saw their wages and benefits whittled away. The impact of those economic blows knocked the wind out of state government. Revenue fell a staggering $778 million short of projections – the biggest one-year drop in Missouri history.

So state government did what every Missouri family had to do: tighten our belts, stretch every dollar and rein in spending. We didn't bellyache about it; we just did it. We focused on our priorities, worked together, and made some real progress.

Unlike 29 other states, we balanced the budget without raising taxes. How did Missouri do it?

We made state government leaner. In one year, I will have reduced the state workforce by nearly 1,800 positions.

We used technology to make government more efficient and effective.

We cut costs by renegotiating contracts.

I ordered state department heads to conserve energy, and we reduced our utility bill by six percent.

I had to cut $600 million out of the state budget, but did so without losing sight of priorities like education and public safety.

And in terms of efficiencies, we're not finished yet.

For years, state government has been creating boards and commissions for this centennial or that special interest. Some do good work, while others don't do much of anything. Nobody paid much attention to them, and they just kept growing and growing until they turned into bureaucratic kudzu.

In an effort to root out government waste and inefficiency, I have already eliminated 13 of these boards and 227 positions.

And I call on the legislature to haul out the brush hog, and get rid of 18 more boards and 246 more positions.

Working together, we've been able to avoid the meltdowns we're now seeing in other states:

Massachusetts and Nevada jacked up their sales tax.

Arizona's on the verge of closing two-thirds of its state parks and selling its House and Senate buildings.

Nevada's Governor has proposed cutting K-12 funding by $700 million.

That's not going to happen here in Missouri.

Our early action and sound management have helped Missouri keep its spotless Triple-A credit rating. That saves taxpayers millions in interest each year. And it signals investors that Missouri is where smart money goes to grow. Moody's Investors Services, one of the nation's premier financial ratings firms, rated Missouri one of the top states to lead the nation's recovery.

By balancing the budget without raising taxes, making hard choices, and managing debt, Missouri is in a strong position to accelerate out of this downturn.

We could never have accomplished that without steadfast bipartisanship. I want to thank all of you for standing together last year and putting Missouri first. We must summon that same bipartisan spirit for the hard work that lies ahead.

This year, although we're in better shape than other states, we still face sobering fiscal challenges.

Revenue projections for fiscal 2011 are austere; we'll have less revenue than we did in 2009. It will take the patience and good faith of every person in this General Assembly – all 163 members of the House and all 34 members of the Senate – working as a team, to manage our limited resources and move Missouri forward on the path to prosperity.

While we are taking steps to get immediate economic returns, we also need to be making strategic investments to secure Missouri's long-term economic growth:

Investments in our children's education;

In health care;

In communities that are safe and vibrant;

And in the beauty and bounty of our state.

In our rapidly changing world, the education of Missouri's children is a high-stakes enterprise. Missouri can't succeed unless our schools succeed. And wherever students excel, we have dedicated teachers to thank.

All across the state, our public schools are stronger for the commendable work teachers do. And I'm not just talking about the work that goes on in classrooms from the first bell on Monday morning to the last bell on Friday afternoon.

I'm talking about the extra hours teachers put in before class, giving students extra help with math or English. And the weekends teachers devote to AP prep and band competitions. For these exceptional people, teaching isn't a job – it's a calling.

Criticizing public education is easy – and cheap. Educating children is hard – and takes serious investment. It's not enough to tell our teachers how much we value them; we must show them. And that is why my budget this year includes continued funding for Career Ladder. Our teachers have earned it.

Last year, we provided record funding for K-12 classrooms, even in the face of severe economic challenges. Other states, like Kansas and Georgia, are restricting education funds already appropriated.

Let me be clear: Every penny appropriated by the legislature last year will go to our K-12 classrooms this year.

Our budget challenges next year are no less daunting. Until the revenue picture changes, most folks in government understand that getting the job done with fewer resources is a given.

But budgets are about protecting priorities. And as we discussed my budget, and where and how much to cut, I took one thing off the table: K-12 classrooms. Our children are precious; their education is too important.

So even in these difficult times, I am recommending increased funding, at a record level, for our K-12 classrooms.

Our commitment to education must extend beyond high school. But for too long, steep tuition hikes have put college out of reach for many Missouri families. Tom and Sandy Ray, who live in St. Louis, had three kids in college at the same time. That's a big price tag for a working family, but Tom and Sandy understood the value of a college degree and were willing to make the sacrifice.

When their family budget suffered a blow last year, they wondered how they'd manage to pay all three tuition bills. But last year, we froze tuition at all two- and four-year public colleges and universities in the state. For thousands of families like the Rays, that was a godsend.

Please welcome these two terrific Missouri parents, Tom and Sandy Ray.

But we're not done. I call on you to join me – and lead the nation by example – in supporting another tuition freeze this year. That would mean Missouri students and their families won't have to pay a penny more in tuition and fees two years in a row.

I want to bring college within reach for even more Missouri students, by addressing a blatant inequity in Missouri's A+ scholarship program. That program pays two years of community college tuition for high school kids who keep up their grades, give back, and stay out of trouble.

Today, a third of the kids in Missouri's public high schools can't even apply for these scholarships. That's because their schools aren't "officially designated" as A+ schools. And that's just not fair.

A+ scholarships should be open to every hard-working public high school student in Missouri. And I count on your support to make that happen this year.

Our children are growing up in a high-speed, digital world; just watch them texting their friends. Without access to the fast lane on the information superhighway, we'll simply be a dusty detour.

This year, Missouri is competing to bring high-speed Internet to every part of our state, from the urban core to the last mile of gravel road.

For a small business like Strawberry's Bar-B-Que in Holcomb, that means instant access to customers from Jamaica to Japan. A college student could take courses on her laptop in Fair Play. A cancer specialist in St. Louis can read medical records from a family doctor in St. James.

We will compete for every possible dollar to turn this broadband project into reality and help Missouri stay competitive.

There's an undeniable correlation between a state's competitiveness and the cost of health care.

Last year, Missouri was poised to make real progress on health care. The Missouri Senate voted overwhelmingly to support my plan to provide health care to 35,000 working Missourians at no additional cost to state taxpayers. Unfortunately, that proposal failed on the last day of the session.

This year, there's been a lot of talk about health care, from the halls of Congress to town hall meetings across the country.

Congress is debating significant health care legislation. If that federal legislation passes, it's our job to show steady, bipartisan leadership and maximize the benefits for the people of Missouri.

There's another important health care issue that demands our immediate attention: autism. This spectrum of disorders is diagnosed in one in 110 children. And the sooner it is diagnosed and treated, the better their lives will be.

Myles and Lora Hinkel have a 7-year-old son, Blake, who has autism. Myles and Lora have been outstanding advocates not just for their son, but for all children with autism. Please welcome the Hinkels tonight.

Blake's father tells a moving story about hearing his son speak his first word at the age of three. Reaching that milestone took months of intensive therapy at the Thompson Center for Autism in Columbia. It was an enormous victory for Blake, summed up rather nicely in that first word: "MINE".

When the Hinkels' insurance company refused to pay for Blake's therapy, they willingly took the hit.

Because they know there is a critical period of time to turn on the light in the developing brain of a child with autism. And if that critical time passes, the light goes out.

Children with autism shouldn't have to wait for their parents to come up with the cash, or for insurance companies to grow a conscience. They need our help now.

For months, I have stood with Democratic and Republican legislators on this issue, and laid out the key elements of a bill that we all know will make a real difference in these children's lives.

This is the year we stand up to insurance companies. This is the year we make them cover autism.

This is the year we turn on the light for thousands of children like Blake Hinkel.

There's another young man I'd like to tell you about. His name is Travis, and he's up in the balcony tonight with his family. When Travis was 8, both his legs were crushed in a car accident caused by a drunk driver. Travis and his mom, Karen, almost died from their injuries. They told me they feel lucky to be alive.

Travis is 11 now; he's had five operations on his legs so far, and he'll need three more. But he's making steady progress. Please welcome this brave young man and his family.

The man behind the wheel of the car that hit Travis and his family had a prior conviction for drunk driving. But there he was – drunk again – coming at them the wrong way on an exit ramp. Travis and his family paid a terrible price for that man's terrible crime.

And that's why I have proposed legislation to effectively prosecute and punish drunk drivers and – most important – yank their licenses, and get them off the road before they shatter more lives. I urge you to send that bill to my desk this year.

Any long-term strategy for improving Missouri's economy, and enhancing our quality of life, must take full advantage of our natural heritage: our woodlands and our streams, our caves and our canyons, our plains and our prairies.

Hunting, fishing, hiking and camping are part of our Missouri way of life. When I was a kid, I did a lot of fishing with my dad. We'd get up early, toss our gear in the back of the station wagon and head down to Bennett Spring or Montauk. I'd be hip-deep in cold water before the mist had rolled off the river.

I spent many golden hours learning to read the river, learning to tie flies that could fool a trout. That kindled my love of the outdoors, which I passed along to my sons – and I hope they'll pass along to theirs.

We need to get more kids off the couch, away from their videogames and back outdoors, because there are some lessons that only Nature can teach.

Tonight, I am pleased to announce the creation of the Missouri State Parks Youth Corps. We'll put more than a thousand young people to work this summer at our 85 state parks and historic sites.

Our park system is a legacy passed on to us by Missourians of extraordinary vision and generosity. Missourians like Edmund Babler, Peter Bennett and Leo Drey; Annie Van Meter, and Ted and Pat Jones. Even in these lean times, we have a responsibility to be good stewards of these treasures, and preserve them for future generations.

My Parks Youth Corps will learn to be good stewards of the land from the ground up: picking up trash, cutting brush, and building trails.

They'll also be outdoor ambassadors in my effort to reverse a 10-year decline in the number of visitors to our beautiful, affordable state parks. More visitors will also pump more money into our tourism industry.

For families who love the outdoors, there's just no better deal around. Now we've got to spread the word: If you like to kayak or fish, bird-watch or mountain bike, come to Missouri first.

Missouri's land has always been the foundation of our economy. Our farmers have fed the nation, and they can feed a hungry world. In a global marketplace, the demand for Missouri agricultural products is primed to expand exponentially.

We've got to sell globally, and buy locally. This year, we'll sell a record amount of corn and soybeans to Taiwan. That's good for our trade balance and good for our farmers.

Here at home, every Missouri family should be able to share the bounty of the land, including fresh, healthy produce. That's why my budget will help promote local farmers markets, and encourage more folks to start community gardens in their neighborhoods.

I've focused this evening on our shared obligations: creating jobs, managing the budget and holding down taxes. I've talked about working together to make our communities safer, stronger and healthier. I've talked about making strategic, long-term investments in Missouri's future.

But we have one more piece of unfinished business: Ethics. It's time we gave the people of Missouri a state government that's as honest and straight-shooting as they are.

Last year, we demolished the patronage system long-used for awarding license fee offices. We created a more efficient system with a transparent bidding process. And it will produce revenue we can put to good use.

Two years ago, the legislature passed a bill to pay for college for the families of veterans killed or seriously disabled in combat. Just one problem: no funding.

Last year, the legislature passed a bill to pay a survivors' benefit to the families of firefighters, police officers, state troopers and sheriff's deputies killed in the line of duty. Same problem: no funding.

With the $800,000 our new fee office system will produce, we can finally do right by these heroes and their families, and fund both of these programs this year. Good government really does pay dividends.

And we can do more. We can pass meaningful ethics reform this year.

There are a number of good reform proposals out there. But to my mind, meaningful ethics reform must do four basic things:

Stop the sneaky, back-door donations from committee-to-committee.

Ban one officeholder from working as a political consultant for another officeholder.

Shut the revolving door between the legislature and lobbyists, for good.

And most importantly, set strict limits on campaign contributions. Missouri voters overwhelmingly mandated them. As Attorney General, I fought for them. The U.S. Supreme Court upheld them. It's the right thing to do.

In the last year, I've logged thousands of miles traveling our great state. I've had coffee with small business owners on Main Street, and chewed the fat with cattlemen. I've visited with combat veterans and college kids, schoolteachers and scientists.

I've met hard-working families struggling to pay their bills, and laid-off factory workers with no health insurance.

A lot of folks are worried about their jobs. About how they're going to pay the mortgage and medical bills. They're anxious about retirement, and what, if anything, will be left for their kids and grandkids.

But not once – not one single time – did I hear anyone say: "Poor me."

Not once did anyone tell me, "Governor, I give up."

Times may be tough. But Missourians are tougher.

Remember the lesson of the ice storm: Our greatest strength lies in one another.

If we can hang tough a little longer, work together and stay on the path, we're going to keep climbing... and climbing... and climbing ...until we see the bright horizon. Because Missouri's future is bright.

Even now, there are glimmers of recovery. Some parts of our economy – like health care and technology – are starting to hire again. Home sales and industrial production are beginning to tick upward. Consumers are cautiously starting to spend.

These first warm rays of recovery are a sign that our discipline and hard work of the past year are paying off for the people of Missouri.

And at the end of the day, whether we vote red, blue or purple, most of us want the same things.

A state that's competitive and prosperous.

A state where hard-working people can find a decent job, buy a house and raise a family.

A state brimming with opportunity, so our children can sink roots and raise families of their own.

A state where health care is abundant and affordable.

A state where every child gets a first-rate education.

A state whose natural beauty beckons us to hike and bike, hunt and fish.

And a state where neighbors help neighbors.

Do we have hard work ahead of us? Yes, we do.

Will we make progress this year? Yes, we will.

Can we move faster if we work together? Absolutely.

Tonight, let's swear an oath, to the people of the state we love and to each other – that nothing will stand in the way of rebuilding our economy and reimagining our future.

Let's make 2010 the year we put politics second, and put Missouri first.

Thank you. And God bless Missouri.

Pershing of the United States of America, were together at one place; and

WHEREAS, General of the Armies John J. Pershing, a native of Missouri and the commander of the American Expeditionary Forces in World War I, noted at the November 1, 1921 dedication that “the people of Kansas City, Missouri are deeply proud of the beautiful memorial, erected in tribute to the patriotism, the gallant achievements, and the heroic sacrifices of their sons and daughters who served in our country's armed forces during the World War. It symbolized their grateful appreciation of duty well done, and appreciation which I share, because I know so well how richly it is merited”; and

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 44

WHEREAS, lesbian, gay, and bisexual Americans have served honorably in the Armed Forces throughout United States history and continue to serve with distinction on active duty, including in the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan; and

WHEREAS, the "Don't Ask, Don't Tell" policy currently does not allow openly lesbian, gay, or bisexual Americans to serve in the military only because of their sexual orientation; and

WHEREAS, more than 13,500 service members have been discharged under the "Don't Ask, Don't Tell" policy since the policy was enacted in 1993, including approximately 800 service members who performed heavily specialized jobs, such as Arabic translators, medical specialists, pilots, and intelligence personnel; and

WHEREAS, American taxpayers have spent more than $360 million to carry out the "Don't Ask, Don't Tell" policy by removing and replacing qualified and honorable service members because of their sexual orientation; and

WHEREAS, the United States military's readiness to protect and defend our nation is severely compromised by spending taxpayer money to discharge honorable service members who are satisfactorily carrying out all required tasks, many of which are highly specialized, making it difficult to find qualified replacement personnel; and

WHEREAS, America's allies in the war on terror, including the United Kingdom, Australia, Canada, and Israel, allow lesbian and gay service members to serve openly; and

WHEREAS, every Department of Defense authorized study has shown that there is no correlation between sexual orientation and unit cohesion in the Armed Forces; and

WHEREAS, there are more than 20,000 military and civilian personnel stationed in Missouri, and an estimated 9,000 lesbian, gay, or bisexual veterans currently residing in Missouri:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby support the Military Readiness Enhancement Act that would replace the current “Don't Ask, Don't Tell” policy with a policy of nondiscrimination based on sexual orientation, and respectfully urge the Congress to pass and the President to sign the Military Readiness Enhancement Act so that lesbian, gay, and bisexual Americans are able to serve their country as any other American would be allowed to serve; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each member of Missouri's congressional delegation.

On motion of Senator Engler, the Senate recessed until 10:45 a.m.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Stouffer offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 45

WHEREAS, many brave and dedicated members of the military call Missouri home; and

WHEREAS, the state of Missouri has a long history of supporting the military in their mission to protect and defend the American people; and

WHEREAS, ensuring that our military forces are a strong and cohesive unit is a priority for all Missourians; and

WHEREAS, federal law currently embodies what has commonly been referred to as the “Don't Ask, Don't Tell” policy, which requires that members of the armed forces be separated from the service if they engage in homosexual acts or are openly gay; and

WHEREAS, this federal law helps ensure unit cohesion that is essential to our military's fighting capability; and

WHEREAS, ending this policy, particularly while American troops are engaged in combat in Afghanistan and Iraq, would be disruptive to the military and to their mission; and

WHEREAS, senior military leaders have reportedly expressed concern about the extra stress that ending this policy would place on members of the military:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby strongly support the service members of the United States military and urge the United States Congress to help these service members carry out their mission by continuing to support the “Don't Ask, Don't Tell” policy; and

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Ray Price, escorted the Chief Justice to the dais where he delivered the State of the Judiciary Address to the Joint Assembly:

State of the Judiciary Address
February 3, 2010

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Members of the General Assembly:

It is my honor to deliver this 37th State of the Judiciary Address.

I am completing my 17th year as a judge of the Missouri Supreme Court. In that time I have seen governors come and go, speakers of the House, lieutenant governors, president pro tems of the Senate, representatives and senators, all come and go. They all faced challenges and all claimed success of one kind or another.

As we look at this coming year, it is helpful to place ourselves in the context of time. Modern science teaches us that the universe we know began with a “great bang” 14 billion years ago. The earth was formed four billion years ago. Human life came into existence perhaps one or two million years ago. The reigns of David and Solomon were three thousand years ago. Against this backdrop, our lives, our times of service, are but a blink of God’s eye. Or in the words of the 90th Psalm: “All our days, pass away ... like a sigh.”

The famous author, John Updike, who died this year, described life as a “leap out of the dark and back.” In more earthy terms, my uncle, an Iowa farmer, says that “no man plows too deep a furrow.” But no matter how brief our time or small our step, this is our opportunity to do what we can to make Missouri a better place.

In some years, there have been grand proposals and bold initiatives. Given the economic realities confronting us, that will not be the case this year. Instead our contribution will be to live within our means, to provide the core services of government to our people, to maintain what is essential for our future, and to focus intensely upon the cost and benefit of everything that we do in state government.

Today I will talk about three things: first, how the judiciary is doing its part to address the state's financial short-fall; second, the need to rethink our strategies to deal with nonviolent crime, including drug and alcohol abuse; and third, a brief thought about the Missouri Nonpartisan Court Plan.

The judiciary has come to this time of financial crisis already lean. We were not favored in the last few years when times were better. Nonetheless, when the extent of the state's budget crisis became evident last year, we voluntarily returned nearly $3 million of our appropriated funds for fiscal 2009. We will return another $3 million of appropriated funds for fiscal 2010. We expect that we will do the same for fiscal 2011. This was not -- and is not -- an easy thing for us to do. The effect of these cuts is magnified by similar budget cuts being made by the counties. For example, Jackson County circuit court alone has been cut $3 million by the county.

We have attempted to make our cuts in areas that would not impact our immediate ability to serve the judicial needs of the people of Missouri. However, the cuts we made severely jeopardize our ability to provide those services in the future. Let me share two examples.

Our statewide computer system needed the next generation of software, a software generation ago. We also needed to add the long promised e-filing component. But we have cut nearly $1.4 million from our technology budget.

Our programs to keep Missouri judges educated and up-to-date on the law are vitally important to the quality of our judiciary. Judges shouldn't be the lowest paid and the least educated lawyers in the courtroom. But we have cut $443,000 from that budget. And so on.

My point is this. We recognize that as a branch of state government we must sacrifice to help balance the budget. We also recognize that we must keep the courts open to meet the needs of our people and to resolve the 800,000 lawsuits they file annually. In business terms, we will put the customers -- the people of Missouri -- first. But we have come to the point where any additional cuts will directly threaten our ability to handle Missouri's legal business now and the cuts that we have already made threaten our ability to handle Missouri's legal business in the future. These cuts need to be restored as soon as possible.

Before leaving this subject, I would like to thank Senator Lembke for offering SJR 28. The resolution would link the pay of Missouri judges to 75 percent of the pay for the corresponding federal position. Interestingly, it would raise the pay of our associate circuit court judges to the same level as our circuit court judges.

There is not a single factor that more adversely impacts our ability to attract and retain quality judges as the relatively low level of judicial pay. Today we have four former Supreme Court judges, in the prime of their careers, enjoying the greener pastures of private practice and two enjoying the higher pay of the federal courts.

Missouri currently ranks 39th in the nation in pay levels for our trial court judges, who are paid approximately $120,000 per year. We have lower pay than all the states that surround us: Iowa ($137,000); Illinois ($174,000); Tennessee ($148,000); Arkansas ($136,000); Oklahoma ($124,000); and Nebraska ($128,000) ... excepting only Kansas, whose trial court pay approximately equals ours ($120,000). (I don't know if it is worse to be below Arkansas or tied with Kansas?)

Nonetheless, I cannot support this resolution. In the current financial crisis, there is no money for judges' raises. I thank you for the idea, but the time is wrong.

Now I need turn our attention to the area of criminal law. Given the difficult financial situation of the state, we must look hard at the costs and effectiveness of our current statutory schemes, especially for nonviolent offenders.

The criminal justice system is very expensive. Law enforcement, prosecutors, public defenders, courthouses, and prisons all cost a lot of money. However, one of the core functions of government is to keep people safe in their homes and safe on the streets. But just because this is one of the most important places that we spend taxpayer money, it does not mean that all of that money is well spent.

For years we have waged a "war on drugs," enacted "three strikes and you're out" sentencing laws, and "thrown away the key" to be tough on crime. What we did not do was check to see how much it costs, or whether we were winning or losing. In fact, it has cost us billions of dollars and we have just as much crime now as we did when we started. We have created a bottleneck by arresting far more people than we can handle down through the rest of the system.

We may have been tough on crime, but we have not been smart on crime. I would like to talk about this problem from three different perspectives: public defenders, prosecutors, and nonviolent offenders. It does no good to commit resources to law enforcement and to arrest criminals if you don't know what you are going to do with them, or you cannot afford to do what you should with them, after they have been arrested.

The first problem is how we are going to try the people we arrest. We already have discussed the financial stress under which the court system is operating. But our public defenders and prosecutors are also stressed to the point of breaking.

Last year the public defenders came to you and told you that they were under-funded and overworked. You appropriated to them an additional $2 million of which they received $500,000. A number of lawsuits regarding their situation were heard and decided in our Court. Essentially we acknowledged the public defenders' crisis in funding, but we declared certain of their regulations limiting their workload to be beyond their statutory authority.

The United States Constitution requires that anyone charged with an offense that may result in jail time be provided an attorney if he or she cannot afford one. The United States Constitution also requires timely trials of criminal cases. If there aren't enough public defenders, the system cannot wait, and jail time cannot be threatened or imposed.

The solution to this problem is relatively simple: either increase the public defender's funding or tell the public defender who to defend and who not to defend within the limits of their funding. At present, you only allow the public defender to determine eligibility by indigency. That means only the poorest offenders will qualify, regardless of the severity of the crime. I would suggest that the most serious charges be targeted, and that the least serious charges be those for which jail time cannot be sought, if we cannot adequately fund the public defender's office. This is simple common sense. Spend our money where it counts. But your statutes don't read that way now.

The state's prosecutors are also underpaid and overworked. Even though they bring charges in the name of the State of Missouri, they are county officers and their pay levels and workloads are determined county by county.

In some ways prosecutors are the most powerful individuals in the criminal justice system. They decide whether charges are brought and what charges are brought. They decide what plea agreements are made. If we want these decisions to be made well, we need people making them who are not underpaid and overworked. If we want these decisions made consistently across the state, there needs to be state involvement.

The inconsistency that you have read about in statewide DWI prosecution, plea bargaining, and sentencing exists in all other areas of criminal law as well. Listen to the disparity. Prison sentences as a percentage of all criminal dispositions for fiscal 2009 ranged from 10.8 percent to 48.7 percent among our various circuits. That means that 1 out of every 10 people found guilty of a crime is sentenced to jail in our lowest sentencing circuit, while 5 out of every 10 are sentenced to jail in our highest sentencing circuit. The average length of these sentences ranges from 4.5 to 9 years among the various circuits. Such a great disparity from circuit to circuit cannot be what we want from a moral, financial, or any other perspective.

The Missouri Bar has appointed a committee to look into recommendations for public defenders and prosecutors. The committee is chaired by your former colleague Joe Moseley. Prior to serving as a state senator, he also served as a prosecuting attorney and as a public defender. I would expect the committee to come to you with a balanced and practical proposal. Whatever the recommendation, this problem needs careful consideration -- consideration that goes beyond merely the dollars that are appropriated.

Perhaps the biggest waste of resources in all of state government is the over-incarceration of nonviolent offenders and our mishandling of drug and alcohol offenders. It is costing us billions of dollars and it is not making a dent in crime.

Listen to these numbers. In 1994, shortly after I came to the Court, the number of nonviolent offenders in Missouri prisons was 7,461. Today it's 14,204. That's almost double. In 1994, the number of new commitments for nonviolent offenses was 4,857. Last year, it was 7,220 -- again, almost double. At a rate of $16,432 per offender, we currently are spending $233.4 million a year to incarcerate nonviolent offenders ... not counting the investment in the 10 prisons it takes to hold these individuals at $100 million per prison. In 1994, appropriations to the Department of Corrections totaled $216,753,472. Today, it's $670,079,452. The amount has tripled. And the recidivism rate for these individuals, who are re-incarcerated within just two years, is 41.6 percent.

I could quote different statistics and relationships to you all morning long, but the simple fact is, we are spending unbelievable sums of money to incarcerate nonviolent offenders, and our prison population of new offenders is going up, not down -- with a recidivism rate that guarantees this cycle will continue to worsen at a faster and faster pace, eating tens of millions of dollars in the process. Missouri cannot afford to spend this much money without getting results.

The problem is not with the administrators of the prisons. I have worked closely with all of them, from Dora Schriro and Gary Kempker, to your former colleague, Larry Crawford, and now George Lombardi. These public servants were -- and are -- excellent at their work, as are their staffs. The problem is that we are following a broken strategy of cramming inmates into prisons and not providing the type of drug treatment and job training that is necessary to break their cycle of crime. Any normal business would have abandoned this failed practice years ago, and it is costing us our shirts.

Let me be clear: violent offenders need to be separated from us so they cannot hurt innocent men, women, or children, regardless of the cost. I am not talking about them. I am talking about nonviolent offenders.

Nonviolent offenders need to learn their lesson. Most often they need to be treated for drug and alcohol addiction and given job training. Putting them in a very expensive concrete box with very expensive guards, surrounding them with hardened criminals for long periods of time, and separating them from their families who need them and could otherwise help them does not work. Proof is in the numbers: 41 percent are back within two years.

Although this is a horrible Missouri problem, it is not just a Missouri problem. Republicans and Democrats across the country are waking up.

State Senator Stewart Greenleaf, a Republican from Pennsylvania, said:

What we have done with the laws we passed over the last 20 years is thrown our net out there too widely and picked up too many little fish. We filled our prisons with nonviolent, first time offenders, and with no noticeable increase in public safety.

United States Senator Jim Webb, a Democrat from Virginia, said:

Focus must be placed on locking up the most dangerous people instead of diverting time and money to incarcerate the wrong people.

Newt Gingrich said:

We have to fundamentally rethink prisons.

There is a better way. We need to move from anger-based sentencing that ignores cost and effectiveness to evidence-based sentencing that focuses on results -- sentencing that assesses each offender's risk and then fits that offender with the cheapest and most effective rehabilitation that he or she needs. We know how to do this. States across the nation are moving in this direction because they cannot afford such a great waste of resources. Missouri must move in this direction, too.

Of course, we must be careful and deliberate. This effort will require statewide coordination and revision of a number of our statutes. It will require diverting some offenders from prison and removing others from prison more quickly -- after they have learned their lesson, but before they are ruined by worse offenders and before they lose their ability to return to their communities, their families, and hopefully, jobs.

One thing we should do immediately is increase our investment in drug courts and expand that effort to DWI courts. Illegal drug use drives crime. Depending upon the study, 60 to 80 percent of crime involves drug use. We also know that simple incarceration, no matter how expensive, does not cure addiction. Treatment combined with strict judicial oversight does.

We know drug courts work. We have more than 8,500 graduates. And we know the tremendous savings that result from drug courts in Missouri. Many of you have visited our drug courts. Just two weeks ago, Speaker Richard brought two drug court graduates, Richard Rainey and Andrea Berin, to speak to you so you could see their success. Thank you for doing that, Mr. Speaker.

At one fourth to one fifth the cost of incarceration, more than one half of drug court participants graduate, and recidivism is only in the 10 percent range. The last five meta studies on drug courts, from all across the United States, have shown that drug courts reduce crime from 8 to 26 percent.

Five years ago I made a mistake. Senator Lager, then chairman of the House Budget Committee, offered $10 million to take drug courts to full capacity. I was afraid that we could not handle that much money so quickly and asked instead for $2 million a year for the next five years. We got the first million that year, but not the rest. So, for the last four years, our drug court program has been operating at half capacity and you have been wasting tens of millions of dollars a year in unnecessary and counterproductive incarceration costs. There is no excuse.

We need to expand our drug courts now -- two million dollars more a year -- until we reach capacity. We will save you many times more than that, and you will save lives and families. You saw it right here.

I thank all of you who have supported drug courts over the years, but we are a long way from where we need to be.

I know you will also be looking at ways to improve our DWI laws this session. When you do, I suggest that you focus on your goals. Do you just want to punish offenders, or do you want to make our streets and highways safer places to drive? Long jail sentences and 10 year license revocations certainly punish people. We have those already, and look at the number of repeat offenders -- more than 4,500 a year. The proof of the misfocus of our anger is in the numbers.

What we need, again, are evidence-based strategies tailored to produce results. A person with a blood alcohol content over .20, arrested for the second time in one year, is different than a person with a blood alcohol content of .081 arrested for the second time in 10 years. One size doesn't fit all. Consistency between jurisdictions is a good goal; consistency among all offenders, despite their individual risks and needs, is not. Some need jail. For others, significantly increased monetary fines will work. Many need treatment for alcoholism.

We have had tremendous success with DWI courts. They operate on the same model as our drug courts. Commissioner Peggy Davis in Springfield runs a nationally recognized DWI court and trains judges across the country. We should have her training judges across this state. Our goal should not be to spend $16,000 a year to keep these offenders in jail as long as we can. Our goal should be to spend $3,000 a year to treat their alcoholism, and to return them to our state as productive tax-paying members of society who drive with licenses, with insurance, and who are sober.

Don't kid yourselves. The 10 year, no exception, license revocation that we have now might sound good, but it doesn't work. You cannot live and work in Missouri, especially suburban and rural Missouri, without a driver's license. All the 10-year revocation guarantees is that the offender is driving without a license, without insurance, and probably drunk. What we need is a sober driver who has a restored license and insurance. Expansion of DWI courts statewide, and the return of licenses to sober DWI court graduates, will do more for the safety of our roads and highways than any other change in the law you can make.

I will not comment on the proposed initiative petitions to replace the Missouri Nonpartisan Plan of selecting judges. There is pending litigation regarding these initiatives. That litigation is entitled to full and fair consideration on the merits of the issues raised by all parties. But you, again, have legislative proposals before you, so I will address this issue in a more general way.

There is a difference in our respective jobs that you should consider. You all run for office in general partisan elections. To do so you need to raise money, perhaps to hire special consultants, and to make promises to the voters about what policies you will support or oppose if elected. Once elected, you are expected to hold true to those promises. To some extent this is and has always been tolerated because the policies you campaign on are general in nature. The laws you pass apply to all. You seek to serve the will of the majority. No individual is singled out.

Our job is not that way. Though an equal branch of government, we have a more limited role. We resolve individual disputes. We have no power until litigants come to us with a real controversy, in which they have a real interest. When they do, we are not free to choose any resolution. We are first bound to honor our national and state constitutions. In fact, we are sworn to uphold the Bill of Rights that guarantees the rights of the individual, even against the will of the majority that you serve. We then follow the laws that you enact.

When the people of Missouri walk into our courtrooms, they expect and deserve to have their individual case heard on its facts and on the law, without fear that a rich man or a powerful interest has already bought the promise of the judge to rule the other way. Justice is rendering to each litigant what he or she is entitled to, not using his or her case as a stepping stone for fundraising or as a stepping stone for the advancement of a particular ideological or political goal, or as payback to a contributor.

Remember the Avery v. State Farm case from Illinois in which an Illinois Supreme Court justice cast the deciding vote in a $450 million case in favor of an insurance company ... after receiving more than $1 million in campaign contributions from those connected to the company. Remember the Caperton v. Massey case from West Virginia in which a new West Virginia Supreme Court justice cast the deciding vote in a $50 million case after the CEO of that company spent approximately $3 million to defeat the new judge's opponent.

Justice is a sacred but fragile concept. It depends upon the eye of the beholder, the trust and confidence of our people. It cannot be for sale to the richest bidder, the most powerful special interest group, or to the cleverest consultant.

The Supreme Court has just voted to change the rules to release the names of all those interviewed for appointment under the Missouri Nonpartisan Plan. This step to transparency will allow the people of our state to judge the panels of three chosen for submission to the governor against all of those who are considered. It is a significant and good change.

Any change that moves the Missouri plan closer to politics, special interests, or money is a change in the wrong direction.

I would like to end my speech with this thought. In my time on the Court, I have seen how hard your life is in the legislature. I understand the pressures you bear to keep your base, the pressures from special interest groups, the pressures to raise thousands of dollars to fund your campaigns, or to move up in leadership.

I know what I have spoken about today is too complicated for 10-second sound bites, and I don't have hundreds of thousands of dollars to donate to your campaign committees. But let me tell you this. From time to time I run into old senators and representatives. They like to visit about what they did in office. They never talk about the money they raised or when they buckled to political pressures. What they talk about are the good things that they did; the things they were proud of.

There will be a day when your time of service comes to an end, too. When it does and you go home, you all will want to be proud of what you have done.

Savings millions of dollars, saving lives, saving families, and making Missouri a safer and better place, is something you can be proud of.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Stouffer offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 46

WHEREAS, the availability and affordability of energy is crucial to Missourians' lives and livelihoods, and Missouri's farms, businesses and industries depend on stable and reliable energy costs to keep their operations running; and

WHEREAS, any policy that would drive up the costs of energy would significantly harm Missouri's farms, businesses, industries, and residents, causing undue additional economic hardship particularly at a time when the state's economy is already strained; and

WHEREAS, the United States Congress is currently debating climate change legislation that would implement an expensive cap and trade emissions trading system by establishing a cap on greenhouse gas emissions, requiring those who emit greenhouse gases to purchase government credits to offset emissions, and allowing those emitters to trade or sell those credits; and

WHEREAS, the considerable costs associated with complying with this legislation would undoubtedly be passed on by companies to their customers, which would make the practical effect of this policy a massive transfer of wealth from energy customers in high greenhouse gas emitting areas; and

WHEREAS, with our reliance on coal as a source of fuel for much of our electricity generation, Missouri, along with other Midwestern states, would suffer abrupt and unprecedented increases in energy costs and its citizens, farms, and businesses would ultimately bear the staggering economic burden that would result from this legislation; and

WHEREAS, in addition to causing Missouri-based businesses to relocate to another state or country, or driving already struggling farms and businesses out-of-business, increases in energy costs have a disproportionately negative impact on the working poor and citizens on fixed incomes, since a greater portion of their constrained budgets would be spent on energy costs; and

WHEREAS, in setting national policies, Congress should strive to develop policies that do not cause sudden and severe negative impacts on the welfare and economies of certain states or regions. Congress should take steps to develop a prudent national energy policy that carefully transitions the country's energy sources over time, and that prevents any abrupt and massive energy price increases in any one state or region; and

WHEREAS, any proposed new environmental or energy legislation enacted by Congress should promote and encourage new technologies to more smoothly transition from higher greenhouse gas emitting sources to lower greenhouse gas emitting sources such as zero-emission advanced nuclear power, biomass energy, fuel cells, and clean coal with carbon capture and sequestration with a goal to bring such technologies to market as quickly as possible. The regulatory, liability, and legal barriers that prevent these technologies from being commercialized and deployed should be addressed before any cap is imposed on greenhouse gas emissions:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the Congress of the United States to refuse to enact cap and trade legislation that would negatively impact Americans by increasing the costs of goods and services and instead enact legislation that encourages states to establish and develop their own renewable energy portfolio standards; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and the members of the Missouri congressional delegation.

“Keep God’s word in this way. Let it enter into your very being, let it take possession of your desires and your whole way of life.” (St. Bernard of Clarivaux)

We do pray that You will enter us and take possession of all we are so that we think and seek to do that which is well pleasing to You. We are mindful of the difficulties that many face in our state and country; let us do all we can here to relieve some of the stress and do what we can to promote job development and recovery. All this we ask in Your Holy Name. Amen.

NINETEENTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 2010

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Grant that I may not pray alone with the mouth; help me that I may pray from the depths of my heart.” (Martin Luther)

Grant us Your grace, O Lord, that we may know that there is nothing mutually exclusive about using our hearts and our heads. Help us use all You have given us to strive for balance between boldness and love - between power and wise discretion. Help us develop “sanity and saintliness” and let not our heads, our hearts nor our mouths be offensive but a help to those in need. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The trustees may be paid reasonable compensation by the district for their services; except that, any compensation schedule shall be approved by resolution, order, or ordinance of the governing body of the county. Any and all expenses incurred in the performance of their

The board of trustees shall have the power to employ and fix the compensation of such staff as may be necessary to discharge the business and purposes of the district, including clerks, attorneys, administrative assistants, and any other necessary personnel. The board of trustees shall select a treasurer, who may be either a member of the board of trustees or another qualified individual. The treasurer selected by the board shall give such bond as may be required by the board of trustees. The board of trustees shall appoint the sewer engineer for the county in which the greater part of the district lies as chief engineer for the district, and the sewer engineer shall have the same powers, responsibilities and duties in regard to planning, construction and maintenance of the sewers, and treatment facilities of the district as he now has by virtue of law in regard to the sewer facilities within the county for which he is elected. If there is no sewer engineer in the county in which the greater part of the district lies, the board of trustees may employ a registered professional engineer as chief engineer for the district under such terms and conditions as may be necessary to discharge the business and purposes of the district. The provisions of this subsection shall not apply to any county of the first classification which has a charter form of government and which contains all or any portion of a city with a population of three hundred fifty thousand or more inhabitants.

2. In any county of the first classification which has a charter form of government and which contains all or any portion of a city with a population of three hundred fifty thousand or more inhabitants, and in any county of the first classification without a charter form of government and which has a population of more than sixty-three thousand seven hundred but less than seventy-five thousand, there shall be [an eight-member] a ten-member board of trustees to consist of the county executive, the mayors of the [four] five cities constituting the largest users by flow during the previous fiscal year, the mayors of [two] three cities which are not among the [four] five largest users and who are members of the advisory board of the district established pursuant to section 204.310, and one member of the county legislature to be appointed by the county executive, with the concurrence of the county legislature. If the county executive does not appoint such members of the county legislature to the board of trustees within sixty days, the county legislature shall make the appointments. In the event the district extends into any county bordering the county in which the greater portion of the district lies, the number of members on the board of trustees shall be increased to a total of [nine] eleven and the presiding commissioner or county executive of the adjoining county shall be an additional member of the board of trustees. The trustees shall receive no compensation for their services, but may be compensated for their reasonable expenses normally incurred in the performance of their duties. The board of trustees may employ and fix the compensation of such staff as may be necessary to discharge the business and purposes of the district, including clerks, attorneys, administrative assistants, and any other necessary personnel. The board of trustees may employ and fix the duties and compensation of an administrator for the district. The administrator shall be the chief executive officer of the district subject to the supervision and direction of the board of trustees and shall exercise the powers, responsibilities and duties heretofore exercised by the chief engineer prior to September 28, 1983. The administrator of the district may, with the approval of the board of trustees, retain consulting engineers for the district under such terms and conditions as may be necessary to discharge the business and purposes of the district. The provisions of this subsection shall only apply to counties of the first classification which have a charter form of government and which contain all or any portion of a city with a population of three hundred fifty thousand or more inhabitants.

204.569. When an unincorporated sewer subdistrict of a common sewer district has been formed pursuant to sections 204.565 to 204.573, the board of trustees of the common sewer district shall have the

(2) To provide for the construction, extension, improvement, and operation of such sewers, sewer systems, and treatment and disposal facilities, as the board determines necessary for the preservation of public health and maintenance of sanitary conditions in the subdistrict;

(3) For the purpose of meeting the costs of activities undertaken pursuant to the authority granted in this section, to issue bonds in anticipation of revenues of the subdistrict in the same manner as set out in sections 204.360 to 204.450, for other bonds of the common sewer district. Issuance of such bonds for the subdistrict shall require the assent only of four-sevenths of the voters of the subdistrict voting on the question, [and] except that, as an alternative to such a vote, if the subdistrict is a part of a common sewer district located in whole or in part in any county of the first classification with more than eighty-two thousand but fewer than eighty-two thousand one hundred inhabitants, bonds may be issued for such subdistrict if the question receives the written assent of three-quarters of the customers of the subdistrict in a manner consistent with section 204.370, where “customer”, as used in this subdivision, means any political subdivision within the subdistrict that has a service or user agreement with the common sewer district. The principal and interest of [such] any bonds issued under this subdivision shall be payable only from the revenues of the subdistrict and not from any revenues of the common sewer district as a whole;

(4) To charge the costs of the common sewer district for operation and maintenance attributable to the subdistrict, plus a proportionate share of the common sewer district's costs of administration to revenues of the subdistrict and to consider such costs in determining reasonable charges to impose within the subdistrict under section 204.440;

(5) With prior concurrence of the subdistrict's advisory board, to provide for the treatment and disposal of sewage from the subdistrict in or by means of facilities of the common sewer district not located within the subdistrict, in which case the board of trustees shall also have authority to charge a proportionate share of the costs of the common sewer district for operation and maintenance to revenues of the subdistrict and to consider such costs in determining reasonable charges to impose within the subdistrict under section 204.440.”; and

The ballot of submission shall be in substantially the following form:

A municipality located in a charter county may impose a sales tax on all retail sales for capital improvements as provided in section 94.890. The [tax] taxes authorized by this section shall be in addition to any and all other sales taxes allowed by law; but no ordinance imposing a sales tax under the provisions of this section shall be effective unless the governing body of the municipality submits to the voters of the municipality, at a municipal or state general, primary or special election, a proposal to authorize the governing body of the municipality to impose such tax and, if such tax is to be used to retire bonds authorized under this section, to authorize such bonds and their retirement by such tax, or to authorize the retirement of debt under previously authorized bonded indebtedness. Beginning August 28, 2010, the combined rate of sales taxes adopted under this section by a municipality shall not exceed one percent.

If a majority of the votes cast on the proposal by the qualified voters voting thereon are in favor of the proposal, including when the proposal authorizes the reduction of debt under previously authorized bonded indebtedness under subdivision (1) of this subsection, then the ordinance or order and any amendments thereto shall be in effect, except that any proposal submitted under subdivision (2) of this subsection to issue bonds and impose a sales tax to retire such bonds must be approved by the constitutionally required percentage of the voters voting thereon to become effective. If a majority of the votes cast by the qualified voters voting are opposed to the proposal, then the governing body of the municipality shall have no power to issue any bonds or impose the proposed sales tax authorized in this section unless and until the governing body of the municipality shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize the governing body of the municipality to issue any bonds or impose [the] a sales tax authorized by this section, and such proposal is approved by the requisite majority of the qualified voters voting thereon; however, in no event shall a proposal pursuant to this section be submitted to the voters sooner than twelve months from the date of the last proposal pursuant to this section, except that any municipality with a population of greater than four hundred thousand and located within more than one county may submit a proposal pursuant to this section to the voters sooner than twelve months from the date of the last proposal submitted pursuant to this section if submitted to the voters on or before November 6, 2001. Disapproval of a proposal by the qualified voters shall not affect any tax already in effect.

3. All revenue received by a municipality from the [tax] taxes authorized under the provisions of this section shall be deposited in a special trust fund and shall be used solely for capital improvements, including the operation and maintenance of capital improvements, for so long as the [tax] taxes shall remain in effect. 4. All revenue received by a municipality which issues bonds under this section and imposes the [tax] taxes authorized by this section to retire such bonds shall be deposited in a special trust fund and shall be used solely to retire such bonds, except to the extent that such funds are required for the operation and maintenance of capital improvements. Once all of such bonds have been retired, all funds remaining in the special trust fund required by this subsection shall be used solely for the maintenance of the capital improvements made with the revenue received as a result of the issuance of such bonds. Any funds in the special trust fund required by this subsection which are not needed to meet current obligations under the bonds issued under this section may be invested by the governing body in accordance with applicable laws relating to the investment of other municipal funds. The provisions of this subsection shall apply only to taxes authorized by this section which have been imposed to retire bonds issued under this section.

5. Except as modified in this section, all provisions of sections 32.085 and 32.087, RSMo, shall apply to the [tax] taxes imposed under this section.

8. Any tax imposed under this section in any home rule city with more than four hundred thousand inhabitants and located in more than one county solely for public transit purposes shall not be considered economic activity taxes as such term is defined under sections 99.805 and 99.918, RSMo, and tax revenues derived from such tax shall not be subject to allocation under the provisions of subsection 3 of section 99.845, RSMo, or subsection 4 of section 99.957, RSMo.

9. The director of revenue may [authorize the state treasurer to] make refunds from the amounts in the trust fund and credited to any municipality for erroneous payments and overpayments made, and may redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such municipalities. If any municipality abolishes [the] a tax, the municipality shall notify the director of revenue of the action at least ninety days prior to the effective date of the repeal and the director of revenue may order retention in the trust fund, for a period of one year, of two percent of the amount collected after receipt of such notice to cover possible refunds or overpayment of the tax and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such accounts. Upon receipt of the ordinance and map, the taxes shall be effective in the attached territory, or abolished in the detached territory, on the effective date of the change of the municipal boundary.

11. The changes to this section enacted by the ninety-fifth general assembly, second regular session, shall not be construed to be a new tax or an increase in the current levy of an existing tax for purposes of paragraph (a) of section 22, article X, Constitution of Missouri, and cities that have already imposed and collected taxes under this section may continue to collect such taxes under this section without further approval by the voters as a continuation of a tax previously approved by the voters of such city.”; and

(13) If any member of the governing body of the municipality, a member of a commission established pursuant to subsection 2 or 3 of this section, or an employee or consultant of the municipality, involved in the planning and preparation of a redevelopment plan, or redevelopment project for a redevelopment area or proposed redevelopment area, owns or controls an interest, direct or indirect, in any property included in any redevelopment area, or proposed redevelopment area, which property is designated to be acquired or improved pursuant to a redevelopment project, he or she shall disclose the same in writing to the clerk of the municipality, and shall also so disclose the dates, terms, and conditions of any disposition of any such interest, which disclosures shall be acknowledged by the governing body of the municipality and entered upon the minutes books of the governing body of the municipality. 2. Prior to adoption of an ordinance approving the designation of a redevelopment area or approving a redevelopment plan or redevelopment project, the municipality shall create a commission of nine persons if the municipality is a county or a city not within a county and not a first class county with a charter form of government with a population in excess of nine hundred thousand, and eleven persons if the municipality is not a county and not in a first class county with a charter form of government having a population of more than nine hundred thousand, and twelve persons if the municipality is located in or is a first class county with a charter form of government having a population of more than nine hundred thousand, to be appointed as follows:

If the members representing school districts and other taxing districts are appointed for a term coinciding with the length of time a redevelopment project, plan or area is approved, such term shall terminate upon final approval of the project, plan or designation of the area by the governing body of the municipality. Thereafter the commission shall consist of the six members appointed by the municipality, except that members representing school boards and other taxing districts shall be appointed as provided in this section prior to any amendments to any redevelopment plans, redevelopment projects or designation of a redevelopment area. (2) Members appointed to the commission created under this subsection, except those six members appointed by either the county executive or presiding commissioner, shall serve on the commission for a term to coincide with the length of time a redevelopment project, redevelopment plan, or designation of a redevelopment area is considered for approval by the commission. If the county, school board, or other taxing district fails to appoint members to the commission within thirty days after the city, town, or village sends the written notice, as provided herein, that it has convened such a commission or within thirty days of the expiration of any such member's term, the remaining duly appointed members of the commission may exercise the full powers of the commission.

4. (1) Any commission created under this section, subject to approval of the governing body of the municipality, may exercise the powers enumerated in sections 99.800 to 99.865, except final approval of plans, projects and designation of redevelopment areas. (3) Any commission created under subsection 3 of this section shall, within fifteen days of the receipt of a redevelopment plan meeting the minimum requirements of section 99.810, as determined by counsel to the city, town, or village creating the commission and a request by the applicable city, town, or village for a public hearing, fix a time and place for the public hearing referred to in section 99.825. The public hearing shall be held no later than seventy-five days from the commission's receipt of such redevelopment plan and request for public hearing. The commission shall vote and make recommendations to the governing body of the city, town, or village requesting the public hearing on all proposed redevelopment plans, redevelopment projects, and designations of redevelopment areas, and amendments thereto within thirty days following the completion of the public hearing. If the commission fails to vote within thirty days following the completion of the public hearing referred to in section 99.825 concerning the proposed redevelopment plan, redevelopment project, or designation of redevelopment area, or amendments thereto, such plan, project, designation, or amendment thereto shall be deemed rejected by the commission.”; and

The department shall order the owner of the property or the person placing solid waste or demolition waste thereon, or both, to remove all solid waste from the premises if it determines that the waste might be reasonably expected to cause a public nuisance or health hazard.

5. The department shall order a site cleaned up pursuant to the provisions of section 260.230, when it determines that the property owner or the operator has accepted remuneration or otherwise benefited financially for placing solid waste or demolition waste in or on the site in contravention of this section. The provisions of sections 260.230 and 260.240, relating to the issuance of orders, shall be applicable to an action pursuant to this section. Any person aggrieved by any action of the department pursuant to this section may appeal in the manner provided in section 260.235. 9. A demolition landfill may accept clean fill, waste resulting from building or demolishing structures and all other waste not required to be placed in a sanitary landfill or a hazardous waste disposal facility for final disposition.

10. Notwithstanding subsection 7 of this section, certain wastes may be disposed of as provided by this subsection:

(1) A person engaged in any activity which produces clean fill may use such material for fill, reclamation or other beneficial purposes on his or her own property or on the property of another person with the permission of the owner of such property, provided that such use does not violate any state law or local ordinance or order;

(2) A person engaged in any activity which produces wood waste may reuse or recycle such waste or may dispose of wood waste on the site where generated if such disposal is in compliance with applicable state law or local ordinances or orders;

TWENTIETH DAY—THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2010

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“A man must always be exceedingly careful to show honor to his wife.” (Babylonian Talmud)

Loving Father, on this Valentine weekend we are mindful that relationships are always under assault from the competing claims that often have us passing each other like ships moving in opposite directions. Help us to honor our partners in this life that we may not show contempt with our words or behavior that leave them feeling empty, angry and lonely. But help us seek to make the effort to listen to what they have to say and to share - to struggle and honestly seek, ask and knock so as to bond in meaningful and dedicated efforts. May our relationships reflect Your love and principles that may help us become all we are capable of becoming. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urgently request the United States Congress to cease and desist from imposing continuous unfunded mandates on states; and

Be it further resolved that the General Assembly urgently requests that the Governor of the State of Missouri and the Missouri Congressional delegation resist continued funding requirements for the Missouri budget; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for President Barack Obama, Vice President Joe Biden, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, Governor Jay Nixon, and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

"210.566. 1. (1) The children's division and its contractors, recognizing that foster parents are not clients but rather are colleagues in the child welfare team, shall treat foster parents in a manner consistent with the National Association of Social Workers' ethical standards of conduct as described in its Social Workers' Ethical Responsibilities to Colleagues. Foster parents shall treat the children in their care, the child's birth family and members of the child welfare team in a manner consistent with their ethical responsibilities as professional team members.

(2) The children's division and its contractors shall provide written notification of the rights enumerated in this section at the time of initial licensure and at the time of each licensure renewal following the initial licensure period.

2. (1) The children's division and its contractors shall provide foster parents with regularly scheduled opportunities for preservice training, and regularly scheduled opportunities for pertinent inservice training, as determined by the Missouri State Foster Care and Adoption Advisory Board.

(2) The children's division and its contractors shall provide to foster parents and potential adoptive parents, prior to placement, all pertinent information, including but not limited to full disclosure of all medical, psychological, and psychiatric conditions of the child, as well as information from previous placements that would indicate that the child or children may have a propensity to cause violence to any member of the foster family home. The foster parents shall be provided with any information regarding the child or the child's family, including but not limited to the case plan, any family history of mental or physical illness, sexual abuse of the child or sexual abuse perpetrated by the child, criminal background of the child or the child's family, fire-setting or other destructive behavior by the child, substance abuse by the child or child's family, or any other information which is pertinent to the care and needs of the child and to protect the foster or adoptive family. Knowingly providing false or misleading information to foster parents in order to secure placement shall be denoted in the caseworker's personnel file and shall be kept on record by the division.

(3) The children's division and its contractors shall arrange preplacement visits, except in emergencies.

(4) The foster parents may ask questions about the child's case plan, encourage a placement or refuse a placement without reprisal from the caseworker or agency. After a placement, the children's division and its contractors shall update the foster parents as new information about the child is gathered.

(5) Foster parents shall be informed in a timely manner by the children's division and its contractors of all team meetings and staffings concerning their licensure status or children placed in their homes, and shall be allowed to participate, consistent with section 210.761.

(6) The children's division and its contractors shall establish reasonably accessible respite care for children in foster care for short periods of time, jointly determined by foster parents and the child's caseworker pursuant to section 210.545. Foster parents shall follow all procedures established by the children's division and its contractors for requesting and using respite care.

(7) Foster parents shall treat all information received from the children's division and its contractors about the child and the child's family as confidential. Information necessary for the medical or psychiatric care of the child may be provided to the appropriate practitioners. Foster parents may share information necessary with school personnel in order to secure a safe and appropriate education for the child. Additionally, foster parents shall share information they may learn about the child and the child's family, and concerns that arise in the care of the child, with the caseworker and other members of the child welfare team. Recognizing that placement changes are difficult for children, foster parents shall seek all necessary information, and participate in preplacement visits whenever possible, before deciding whether to accept a child for placement.

3. (1) Foster parents shall make decisions about the daily living concerns of the child, and shall be permitted to continue the practice of their own family values and routines while respecting the child's cultural heritage. All discipline shall be consistent with state laws and regulations. The children's division shall allow foster parents to help plan visitation between the child and the child's siblings or biological family. Visitations should be scheduled at a time that meets the needs of the child, the biological family members, and the foster family whenever possible. Recognizing that visitation with family members is an important right of children in foster care, foster parents shall be flexible and cooperative with regard to family visits.

(2) Foster parents shall provide care that is respectful of the child's cultural identity and needs. Recognizing that cultural competence can be learned, the children's division and their contractors shall provide foster parents with training that specifically addresses cultural needs of children, including but not limited to, information on skin and hair care, information on any specific religious or cultural practices of the child's biological family, and referrals to community resources for ongoing education and support.

(3) Foster parents shall recognize that the purpose of discipline is to teach and direct the behavior of the child, and ensure that it is administered in a humane and sensitive manner. Foster parents shall use discipline methods which are consistent with children's division policy.

4. (1) Consistent with state laws and regulations, the children's division and its contractors shall provide, upon request by the foster parents, information about a child's progress after the child leaves foster care.

(2) Except in emergencies, foster parents shall be given two weeks advance notice and a written statement of the reasons before a child is removed from their care. When requesting removal of a child from their home, foster parents shall give two weeks advance notice, consistent with division policy, to the child's caseworker, except in emergency situations.

(3) Recognizing the critical nature of attachment for children, if a child reenters the foster care system and is not placed in a relative home, the child's former foster parents shall be given first consideration for placement of the child.

(4) Recognizing the critical nature of sibling bonds for children, the children's division shall make reasonable efforts to place siblings in the same foster care, kinship, guardianship, or adoptive placement, unless doing so would be contrary to the safety or well-being of any of the siblings. If siblings are not placed together, the children's division shall make reasonable efforts to provide frequent visitation or other ongoing interaction between the siblings, unless this interaction would be contrary to a sibling's safety or well-being.

(5) If a child becomes free for adoption while in foster care, the child's foster family shall be given preferential consideration as adoptive parents consistent with section 453.070, RSMo.

~~[(5)]~~ (6) If a foster child becomes free for adoption and the foster parents desire to adopt the child, they shall inform the caseworker within sixty days of the caseworker's initial query. If they do not choose to pursue adoption, foster parents shall make every effort to support and encourage the child's placement in a permanent home, including but not limited to providing information on the history and care needs of the child and accommodating transitional visitation.

5. Foster parents shall be informed by the court no later than two weeks prior to all court hearings pertaining to a child in their care, and informed of their right to attend and participate, consistent with section 211.464, RSMo.

6. The children's division and their contractors shall provide access to a fair and impartial grievance process to address licensure, case management decisions, and delivery of service issues. Foster parents shall have timely access to the child placement agency's appeals process, and shall be free from acts of retaliation when exercising the right to appeal.

7. The children's division and their contractors shall provide training to foster parents on the policies and procedures governing the licensure of foster homes, the provision of foster care, and the adoption process. Foster parents shall, upon request, be provided with written documentation of the policies of the children's division and their contractors. Per licensure requirements, foster parents shall comply with the policies of the child placement agency.

8. For purposes of this section, "foster parent" means a resource family providing care of children in state custody.

The board shall be comprised of foster and adoptive parents as follows:

3. All members of the board shall serve for a term of at least two years. Members may be re-appointed to the board by their entities for consecutive terms. All vacancies on the board shall be filled for the balance of the unexpired term in the same manner in which the board membership which is vacant was originally filled.

4. Each member of the board may be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred by the member in performance of his or her official duties. All reimbursements made under this subsection shall be made from funds within the department of social services' children's division budget.

5. All business transactions of the board shall be conducted in public meetings in accordance with sections 610.010 to 610.030.

6. The board shall elect officers from the membership consisting of a chairperson, co-chairperson, and secretary. Officers shall serve for a term of two years. The board may elect such other officers and establish such committees as it deems appropriate.

7. The board shall establish such procedures necessary to:

(1) Review children's division proposed policy and provide written responses to the children's division indicating approval or notifying the children's division of the board's disapproval and provide recommendations for change within thirty days of receipt of the proposed policy;

(2) Provide draft policy suggestions, at the request of the children's division or in response to issues by the board, to the children's division for improvements in foster care or adoption practice; and

(3) Fulfill its statutory requirement in accordance with section 210.566 to determine the content of in-service training to be provided by the children's division to foster and adoptive parents.

8. The board shall provide to the director of the department of social services, the governor, the office of the child advocate, and upon request, members of the general assembly, a written report of annual activities conducted and made.

9. The board shall exercise its powers and duties independently of the children's division within the department of social services in order to ensure partnership and accountability in the provision of services to the state's children affected by abuse and neglect. ---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“The best prayers are often more groans than words.” (John Bunyan)

Heavenly Father, we begin this journey the Christian world knows as Lent; it is a time for all human kind to look at their lives and see that they need Your help along difficult pathways that can lead us to disagreements with and wrongs to our brothers and sisters. So help us Lord to remember that Your word prescribes a way to handle differences that can bring peace and accord among us. And as Your spirit leads us through this time of reflection and hope help us do more good with our lives. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY—MONDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 2010

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Let us with caution indulge the supposition that morality can be maintained without religion. Reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle.” (George Washington)

Lord God, we are confronted with a time that many in our country experience the burden of debt, unemployment and fear for the future. It is a time that truly tries our souls and a time that we need to follow Your teachings so our lives when examined show the moral fiber You would have us live by. Our forefathers left us a legacy that we should never forget nor try to live without the religious principles upon which they tried to establish this country as truly “one nation under God.” So help us live so others see those principles in our lives. In Your Holy name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

Senator Schmitt offered Senate Resolution No. 1712, regarding John P. “JP” Payne, Fenton, which was adopted.

Senator Nodler offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 1713

Whereas, the members of the Missouri Senate hold in high esteem those Show-Me State residents who bring glory and honor to themselves and to this great state through the excellence of their achievements in their chosen fields of endeavor; and

Whereas, Jamie McMurray, a native of Joplin, Missouri, has attained considerable distinction as a race car driver who has competed in the NASCAR Sprint Cup Series and the NASCAR RE/MAX Challenge Series; and

Whereas, Jamie McMurray enhanced his already impressive record of accomplishment when he raced to victory while driving for Earnhardt Ganassi Racing, on February 14, 2010, in the No. 1 Bass Pro Shops Chevrolet, around the 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway in the 52nd Daytona 500, the biggest, richest, and most prestigious NASCAR-racing event in America; and

Whereas, the 2003 NASCAR Winston Cup Rookie of the Year, Jamie McMurray is in his eighth consecutive year driving in the NASCAR Sprint Cup Series; and

Whereas, Jamie McMurray won the Pepsi 400 at Daytona in 2007, the Infineon Pole in 2007, three Top-Five Finishes in 2007, nine Top-Ten Finishes in 2007, three Top-Five Finishes in 2006, ten Top-Ten Finishes in 2005, three nationwide series races in 2004, the Raybestos Rookie of the Year Award in 2003, First Pole at Homestead-Miami Speedway in 2003, thirteen Top-Ten Finishes in 2003, and he took first place in only his second start at the 2002 fall Cup race at Lowe’s Motor Speedway and set a new NASCAR modern-era record by becoming the quickest driver to win a Cup race; and

Whereas, Jamie McMurray has endeared himself to his hometown fans through his many acts of charity and by remaining humble despite his international celebrity:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, join to applaud the personal and professional accomplishments garnered thus far in the life and work of Jamie McMurray and to convey to him this legislative body’s most heartfelt congratulations upon winning the 52nd running of the Daytona 500; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for presentation to Jamie McMurray of Joplin, Missouri.

Jamie McMurray assumed the dais and addressed the members of the body.

The President assumed the Chair.

Senators Champion and Nodler offered the following resolution, which was read and adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 1714

Whereas, the members of the Missouri Senate feel it is altogether right and proper to pause from time to time to recognize outstanding Missourians who have distinguished themselves as business leaders and community leaders; and

Whereas, the members now pause to recognize John L. Morris, the owner and founder of Bass Pro Shops, also known as Outdoor World, a privately held sports equipment and outdoor recreation goods store headquartered in Springfield, Missouri; and

Whereas, enormously successful, Bass Pro Shops annually grosses an estimated $1.9 billion in sales in fifty-four large retail stores in the United States, one in Vaughan, Ontario, Canada, and one near Calgary, Alberta, Canada; and

Whereas, John Morris began his career in sporting goods with a fishing section in the back of a Brown Derby liquor store owned by his father, located in Springfield on the road to Table Rock Lake and Branson, Missouri; and

Whereas, the small fishing department sold homemade bait and worms, proving so popular that many people wanted the opportunity to buy these when they had returned home, and thus began the Bass Pro Shops catalog first mailed in 1974, which soon became the world's largest mail order sporting goods store; and

Whereas, in November 2001, the state of Missouri made use of Outdoor World's popularity as a tourist destination and opened the Wonders of Wildlife museum next door to the store in Springfield; and

Whereas, Bass Pro Shops and John Morris have had a longtime interest in NASCAR racing, as Bass Pro Shops has sponsored such racers as Dale Earnhardt, Kerry Earnhardt, Martin Truex Jr., and most recently Jamie McMurray; and

Whereas, Jamie McMurray raced to victory while driving for Earnhardt Ganassi Racing, on February 14, 2010, in the No. 1 Bass Pro Shops Chevrolet, around the 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway in the 52nd Daytona 500, the biggest, richest, and most prestigious NASCAR-racing event in America:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, extend our most sincere admiration to John Morris on his colossal commercial success and his on-going support of NASCAR racing; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for presentation to John L. Morris as a measure of our esteem.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Shoemyer offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 50

WHEREAS, Spartan Light Metal Products has been an industry leader in magnesium custom die castings for the past 4 decades with the company being owned and operated as a family business since 1961 and employing over 600 people; and

WHEREAS, Spartan Light Metal Products provides die cast products from magnesium alloys that reduce weight and improve performance of products at competitive costs; and

WHEREAS, magnesium die castings, such as Spartan Light Metal Products, are being greatly harmed by the tariffs (731-TA-1071 and 731-TA-1072) that have been placed on imported magnesium alloys by the United States International Trade Commission; these tariffs allow the nation's lone magnesium producer to set whatever price it chooses for raw magnesium, driving many die cast companies out of business; and

WHEREAS, the tariffs have created an advantage for foreign competitors, who can purchase magnesium at globally-competitive prices and export finished products to U.S. markets free of penalties; and this practice replaces U.S. manufacturing jobs and could lead to bankruptcy for the industry; and

WHEREAS, the tariffs have also placed U.S. car manufacturers at a cost and weight disadvantage against foreign carmakers in meeting Corporate Average Fuel Economy requirements; and as a result, about 60% of Spartan Light Metal Products' magnesium business for 2011 is disappearing at a time when the demand for magnesium products is growing:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the United States President and Congress to find a creative solution to protect the nation's lone magnesium producer without destroying the United States magnesium die casting industry; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members further urge the United States President and Congress to lift U.S. tariffs 731-TA-1071 and 731-TA-1072 on die cast magnesium alloys from China and Russia or create a fair market by placing a similar tariff on imported assemblies and products made from die cast magnesium alloys; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States and the members of the Missouri congressional delegation.

Senator Stouffer offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 51

WHEREAS, the State of Missouri contains 553 miles of the Missouri River, which borders 23 Missouri counties and over 50 Missouri communities, making it one of the State's greatest natural resources; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly recognizes that eighteen power plants, which have the capacity to generate over 11,000 megawatts of electricity, draw cooling water from the lower Missouri River basin; and

WHEREAS, over half of Missouri citizens get their drinking water from the Missouri River and its alluvium, and the State of Missouri has constructed infrastructure to support water supply in the lower Missouri River with the understanding that reliable navigation flows would be maintained in the future; and

WHEREAS, Missouri is the origin or destination for over one-half of all commercial tonnage shipments on the Missouri River, with the Port of St. Louis, just downstream from where the Missouri enters the Mississippi River, being one of the largest inland ports in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri River is a vital link in the State of Missouri's total transportation system and the General Assembly wishes to maximize this valuable asset in order to move freight and to support our state's economy; and

WHEREAS, barge transport allows for significant economic benefits and cost savings, since one barge can transport the same amount of freight as 16 rail cars or 70 trucks; and

WHEREAS, river transportation is the most environmentally friendly form of transporting goods and commodities, creating almost no noise pollution and emitting 35 to 60 percent fewer pollutants than either trucks or trains; and

WHEREAS, barges are also the most fuel efficient method of freight transport; barges can move one ton of cargo 576 miles per gallon of fuel, compared to 413 miles per gallon of fuel for rail cars and only 155 miles per gallon of fuel for trucks; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly recognizes that the State of Missouri is investing more of its resources to develop and improve public ports as intermodal connectors in the state, including those on the Missouri River; and

WHEREAS, in the Flood Control Act of 1944, as amended, the United States Congress authorized the construction of the Missouri River Mainstem Reservoir System for the federal purposes of flood control and navigation, with other authorized purposes including irrigation, power, water supply, water quality and recreation; and

WHEREAS, the June 4, 2003 and August 16, 2005 decisions of the United States Court of Appeals of the Eighth Circuit confirmed that navigation and flood control are the two dominant functions of the Flood Control Act of 1944; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri River is operated in accordance with the updated Missouri River Master Water Control Manual, which contains the management plan for the River and was adopted by the United States Army Corps of Engineers in 2004; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly recognizes that the United States Army Corps of Engineers utilized extensive public processes to complete the 2004 Missouri River Master Water Control Manual and worked to balance the needs and desires of many competing stakeholder groups in establishing the Manual's navigation guidelines; and

WHEREAS, the 2004 Missouri River Master Water Control Manual was finalized after 15 years of debate and litigation and after the expenditure of over $35 million in federal funds; and

WHEREAS, the 2004 Missouri River Master Water Control Manual reduced the length of the navigation season, shifting a large amount of water away from navigation and other downstream uses of the Missouri River to benefit upstream uses, such as reservoir recreation; and

WHEREAS, despite the opposition of Missouri's congressional delegation, the Omnibus Appropriations Act of 2009 authorized the United States Army Corps of Engineers to conduct the Missouri River Authorized Purposes Study at a total cost of $25,000,000, which will review the original authorized purposes from the Flood Control Act of 1944 and will determine if changes to those purposes and existing Federal water resources infrastructure may be warranted; and

WHEREAS, the United States Army Corps of Engineers began conducting the Missouri River Authorized Purposes Study in October of 2009; and

WHEREAS, the scope of the Missouri River Authorized Purposes Study, as defined by the United States Army Corps of Engineers, exceeds the scope of the Congressional authority for the study, in that the Corps intends to develop recommendations and alternatives to the authorized purposes that Congress did not request; and

WHEREAS, federal taxpayers' dollars should not be wasted to develop recommendations and alternatives that Congress did not authorize; and

WHEREAS, the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2010 authorized the United States Department of Transportation to conduct an independent and comprehensive study and analysis at a total cost of $2,000,000 to supplement the Missouri River Authorized Purposes Study and to develop a comprehensive understanding of the full value of river flow support to users in the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers; and

WHEREAS, the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2010 also authorized the Missouri Department of Transportation to conduct a Missouri River Freight Corridor Study at a total cost of $900,000, which will examine how to increase freight tonnage moved on the Missouri River, long-term development opportunities along the Missouri River corridor and ways to better use Missouri waterways to relieve infrastructure stress and congestion; and

WHEREAS, at times the Missouri River provides over sixty percent of the water in the Mississippi River that passes St. Louis; and

WHEREAS, if the navigability of the Mississippi River is negatively impacted between the confluence of the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers and the confluence of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, barges would no longer be able to travel from the far northern portions of the Mississippi River to the Gulf of Mexico, which would devastate the barge industry, the agricultural industry and the transportation system as a whole; and

WHEREAS, it is imperative that the Missouri River Authorized Purposes Study consider Mississippi River navigation when evaluating if changes to the authorized purposes are warranted:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby express their continued opposition to the Missouri River Authorized Purposes Study; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members hereby express their opposition to the alteration of the Missouri River's primary purposes of navigation and flood control; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members hereby urge the Missouri's congressional delegation to actively oppose funding the Missouri River Authorized Purposes Study in future fiscal years; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members hereby urge the United States Army Corps of Engineers to narrow the scope of the Missouri River Authorized Purposes Study to make it consistent with Congressional authority; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members hereby urge the United States Army Corps of Engineers to include Mississippi River navigation in any evaluation of the authorized purposes under the Missouri River Authorized Purposes Study; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the United States Army Corps of Engineers and the members of the Missouri congressional delegation.

Senator Lager offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 52

WHEREAS, the Missouri State government is an institution that is empowered by the will and consent of the people of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the elected and appointed officials of the state of Missouri must recognize that the tax dollars expended by the state belong to the people of the state; and

WHEREAS, during the spring of 2009, for the 2008 tax year, Missouri state taxpayers did not receive their tax refunds in a timely manner; and

WHEREAS, taxpayers were told by the Department of Revenue that there were processing delays and there were not enough staff to handle requests; and

WHEREAS, however, the monies that are rightly owed back to the taxpayers, were held at length without the consent of the taxpayers to cover budget shortfalls; and

WHEREAS, many tax refunds were not completed until the late summer of 2009; and

WHEREAS, while taxpayers are held to their obligations to pay taxes on time, the state did not honor the obligation to return taxpayer money to the taxpayers in a timely fashion; and

WHEREAS, tax refunds are the result of overpayment of taxes and those overpayments do not belong to the state, but to the people:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, recognizes that tax refunds lawfully belong to the people and that the Governor and the Department of Revenue must ensure that income tax refunds are processed and returned in a timely manner, that the tax dollars owed to the people are not to be used under false pretenses; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Governor and the Director of the Department of Revenue.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Purgason offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 53

WHEREAS, in the American system, sovereignty is defined as final authority, and the people, not government, are sovereign; and

WHEREAS, the founders of the Constitution created an ingenious template of checks and balances, with divisions and distributions of power to provide for and protect the highest sovereignty--that of each individual citizen; and

WHEREAS, the people of the several states comprising the United States of America created the federal government to be their agent for certain enumerated purposes only and retained sovereignty for the states and each individual citizen over all other purposes; and

WHEREAS, the Founding Fathers determined that equal representation of the states in the Senate of the United States recognized the individual sovereignty of each state and provided an impediment against encroachment into the sovereignty of the states by the federal government; and

WHEREAS, James Madison, in the Federalist Papers, No. 62, wrote on the appointment of senators by the state legislatures that it gives the "...State governments such an agency in the formation of the federal government as must secure the authority of the former..."; and

WHEREAS, because of the differing modes of representation and election in the House and Senate prior to 1913, each branch provided a more perfect balance of legislative power against, and an independent check upon, the other; and

WHEREAS, James Madison explained this independent check against improper acts of legislation in Federalist Papers, No. 62, "No law or resolution can now be passed, without the concurrence, first, of a majority of the people, and then of a majority of the States."; and

WHEREAS, the ratification of the 17th Amendment in 1913 changed the election of the United States Senators from the state legislatures to the popular vote of the people of the states, thereby divesting the states of any direct voice in the federal government and has diluted the power of the separate states, unbalanced federalism, and has resulted in the increased power of the federal government; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States has, since the ratification of the 17th Amendment, steadily encroached upon the sovereignty of this and the other states united by and under the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, a Senator's general responsibility should be, as intended by our founders, to represent state government and the state legislature; and

WHEREAS, the state legislature has a role in compelling accountability from United States Senators:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby declare defective the current process of choosing United States Senators, request Congress to transmit for consideration by the states of the United States, an amendment to the 17th Amendment to the United States Constitution that provides for state legislatures to elect members of the United States Senate; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and the members of the Missouri congressional delegation.

Senator Purgason offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 54

WHEREAS, the governor in his budget plan for 2011 relied on $300 million in funds from the federal government that have not been approved by Congress and may never come to fruition; and

WHEREAS, revenues in Missouri continue to fall well below estimates prepared by the state, forcing the governor to cut funds already appropriated by the legislature in order to balance the budget; and

WHEREAS, at the same time revenues have declined, state government has grown over the years, producing unnecessary programs and inefficient allocations of funds; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly through careful planning must identify inefficient and unnecessary areas of government spending in order to ensure the state's resources are being put to a use that most benefits the citizens of this state:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby establish a Joint Interim Committee on Reducing the Size of State Government; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Committee shall be charged with the following:

1. Examining each department, and agency within each department, to determine programs or bureaucracies within such department that should be eliminated or reduced; and

2. Developing recommendations, strategies and plans for:

(1) Reducing the size of state government;

(2) Identifying inefficient and unnecessary uses of state funds;

(3) Addressing budget shortfalls; and

(4) Other areas that the Committee determines are vital to reducing the size of state government; and

3. Reporting its recommendations to the House Budget Committee and the Senate Appropriations Committee by December 31, 2010; and

4. Such other matters as the Joint Interim Committee may deem necessary in order to determine the proper course of future legislative and budgetary action regarding these issues; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Committee shall be composed of ten members, three majority party members, and two minority party members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate, and three majority party members and two minority party members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Joint Interim Committee is authorized to function during the legislative interim between the Second Regular Session of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly through December 31, 2010; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Joint Interim Committee may solicit input and information necessary to fulfill its obligations, including, but not limited to, soliciting input and information from any state department or agency the Joint Interim Committee deems relevant, political subdivisions of this State, and the general public; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the staffs of Senate Appropriations, Senate Research, House Appropriations, House Research, and the Joint Committee on Legislative Research shall provide such legal, research, clerical, technical, and bill drafting services as the Joint Interim Committee may require in the performance of its duties; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the actual and necessary expenses of the Joint Interim Committee, its members, and any staff assigned to the Joint Interim Committee incurred by the Joint Interim Committee shall be paid by the Joint Contingent Fund.

THIRTIETH DAY—TUESDAY, MARCH 2, 2010

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“It is in the deed that God reveals himself in life.” (Leo Baeck)

Merciful Father, we grow a sense that the world is shrinking for what happens in one place effects the lives of people in another land. We saw the response to help when Haiti was decimated and now Chile and our people wish again to relieve suffering. In such acts of mercy we know Your desire and Your will for us is to be compassionate to our neighbors and in the deeds You reveal Your presence. May You bless our efforts and may You be an ever present comfort to Your hurting people. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

Journal of the Senate

---

THIRTY-FIRST DAY—WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3, 2010

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“In it the soul feeds upon God, draws new vitality from the source of all life. The citizen who is so strengthened is worth more to the state than the one whose roots do not strike deep into eternity.” (Prayer of Silence, Evelyn Underhill)

As we reach the midpoint of this week help us to spend some time in silence with You our God. Let our “roots strike deep” into You, O Lord, so we too may be of greater worth to this state and the people we serve. And may we gain strength for the many tasks to finish this week and work ahead of us. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

“302.341. 1. If a Missouri resident charged with a moving traffic violation of this state or any county or municipality of this state fails to dispose of the charges of which the resident is accused through authorized prepayment of fine and court costs and fails to appear on the return date or at any subsequent date to which the case has been continued, or without good cause fails to pay any fine or court costs assessed against the resident for any such violation within the period of time specified or in such installments as approved by the court or as otherwise provided by law, any court having jurisdiction over the charges shall within ten days of the failure to comply inform the defendant by ordinary mail at the last address shown on the court records that the court will order the director of revenue to suspend the defendant's driving privileges if the charges are not disposed of and fully paid within thirty days from the date of mailing. Thereafter, if the defendant fails to timely act to dispose of the charges and fully pay any applicable fines and court costs, the court shall notify the director of revenue of such failure and of the pending charges against the defendant. Upon receipt of this notification, the director shall suspend the license of the driver, effective immediately, and provide notice of the suspension to the driver at the last address for the driver shown on the records of the department of revenue. Such suspension shall remain in effect until the court with the subject pending charge requests setting aside the noncompliance suspension pending final disposition, or satisfactory evidence of disposition of pending charges and payment of fine and court costs, if applicable, is furnished to the director by the individual. Upon proof of disposition of charges and payment of fine and court costs, if applicable, and payment of the reinstatement fee as set forth in section 302.304, the director shall return the license and remove the suspension from the individual's driving record. The filing of financial responsibility with the bureau of safety responsibility, department of revenue, shall not be required as a condition of reinstatement of a driver's license suspended solely under the provisions of this section.

2. If any city, town or village receives more than thirty-five percent of its annual general operating revenue from fines and court costs for traffic violations occurring on state highways, all revenues from such violations in excess of thirty-five percent of the annual general operating revenue of the city, town or village shall be sent to the director of the department of revenue and shall be distributed annually to the schools of the county in the same manner that proceeds of all penalties, forfeitures and fines collected for any breach of the penal laws of the state are distributed. For the purpose of this section the words “state highways” shall mean any state or federal highway, including any such highway continuing through the boundaries of a city, town or village with a designated street name other than the state highway number. For purposes of this section, the term “traffic violations” shall include moving and nonmoving violations and any moving violations, as that term is defined in section 302.010, that are subsequently pled or amended to nonmoving traffic violations. The director of the department of revenue shall set forth by rule a procedure whereby excess revenues as set forth above shall be sent to the department of revenue. If any city, town, or village disputes a determination that it has received excess revenues required to be sent to the department of revenue, such city, town, or village may submit to an annual audit by the state auditor under the authority of article IV, section 13 of the Missouri Constitution. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly under chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2009, shall be invalid and void.”; and

No owner of a motor vehicle registered in this state, or required to be registered in this state, shall operate, register or maintain registration of a motor vehicle, or permit another person to operate such vehicle, unless the owner maintains the financial responsibility which conforms to the requirements of the laws of this state. No nonresident shall operate or permit another person to operate in this state a motor vehicle registered to such nonresident unless the nonresident maintains the financial responsibility which conforms to the requirements of the laws of the nonresident's state of residence. Furthermore, no person shall operate a motor vehicle owned by another with the knowledge that the owner has not maintained financial responsibility unless such person has financial responsibility which covers the person's operation of the other's vehicle; however, no owner or nonresident shall be in violation of this subsection if he or she fails to maintain financial responsibility on a motor vehicle which is inoperable or being stored and not in operation. The director may prescribe rules and regulations for the implementation of this section.

An order of supervision shall not be used in lieu of points more than one time in any thirty-six-month period. Every court having jurisdiction pursuant to the provisions of this section shall forward a record of conviction to the Missouri state highway patrol, or at the written direction of the Missouri state highway patrol, to the department of revenue, in a manner approved by the director of the department of public safety. The director shall establish procedures for the record keeping and administration of this section.

5. If a court enters an order of suspension, the offender may appeal such order directly pursuant to chapter 512, RSMo, and the provisions of section 302.311, RSMo, shall not apply.

303.080. 1. In case the operator or the owner of a motor vehicle involved in an accident within this state has no license or registration, or is a nonresident, he shall not be allowed a license or registration until he has complied with the requirements of this chapter to the same extent that would be necessary if, at the time of the accident, he had held a license and registration.

2. When a nonresident's operating privilege is suspended pursuant to [section 303.030 or section 303.140] this chapter, the director shall transmit a certified copy of the record of such action to the official in charge of the issuance of licenses and registration certificates in the state in which such nonresident resides[, if the law of such other state provides for action in relation thereto similar to that provided for in subsection 3 of this section].

3. Upon receipt of such certification that the operating privilege of a resident of this state has been suspended or revoked in any such other state pursuant to a law providing for its suspension or revocation for failure to deposit security for the payment of judgments arising out of a motor vehicle accident, under circumstances which would require the director to suspend a nonresident's operating privilege had the accident occurred in this state, the director shall suspend the license of such resident if he was the operator, and all of his registrations if he was the owner of a motor vehicle involved in such accident. ## SECOND REGULAR SESSION

THIRTY-SECOND DAY—THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 2010

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“You who seek God, let your heart revive.” (Psalm 69:32b)

We acknowledge that the heart is seen by us as the seat of human emotion that often directs our behavior and words. So help us O Lord to weed from our heart that which threatens our undoing but rather fill it with faith, hope and love for You, our families, and our neighbors. Help us be open vessels to receive Your blessing that we may bless others. Help us be revived in this Spring break, to strengthen our minds, bodies and souls, resting in You. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY—TUESDAY, MARCH 16, 2010

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“I always give much away, and so gather happiness instead of pleasure.” (Rahel Levin Varnhagen)

Heavenly Father, we are so aware of the difficulties that our economy’s decline is creating for our people and the demands that we face as we look at a reduced budget and cuts that affect the lives of the people we serve. Guide us to make the best, most useful decisions that produce the most good. And we know that more will be expected of each of us in our personal benevolence and outreach to those in need so help us see the true joy of giving and satisfaction from helping another. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Bill No. 791, Page 3, Section 204.300, Line 80, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“204.472. 1. (1) Whenever all or any part of a territory located within a sewer district that is located in any county of the third classification without a township form of government and with more than forty thousand eight hundred but less than forty thousand nine hundred inhabitants is included by annexation within the corporate limits of any city of the third classification with more than sixteen thousand six hundred but less than sixteen thousand seven hundred inhabitants, but is not receiving sewer service from such district or city at the time of such annexation, the city and the board of trustees of the district may, within six months after such annexation becomes effective, develop an agreement to provide sewer service to the annexed territory. Such an agreement may also be developed for territory that was annexed between January 1, 1996, and August 28, 2002, but was not receiving sewer service from such district or such city on August 28, 2002. For the purposes of this section, “not receiving sewer service” shall mean that no sewer services are being sold within the annexed territory by such district or city. If the city and the board reach an agreement that detaches any territory from such district, the agreement shall be submitted to the circuit court having jurisdiction over the major portion, and the circuit court shall make an order and judgment detaching the territory described in the agreement from the remainder of the district and stating the boundary lines of the district after such detachment. At such time that the circuit court's order and judgment becomes final, the clerk of the circuit court shall file certified copies of such order and judgment with the secretary of state and with the recorder of deeds and the county clerk of the county or counties in which the district is located.

If an agreement is developed between a city and a sewer district pursuant to this subsection, subsections 2 to 8 of this section shall not apply to such agreement.

(2) Whenever all or any part of a territory located within a sewer district that is located in any county of the third classification is included by annexation within the corporate limits of any city, but is not receiving sewer service from such district or city at the time of such annexation, the city and the board of trustees of the district may, within six months after such annexation becomes effective, develop an agreement to provide sewer service to the annexed territory. Such an agreement may also be developed for territory that was annexed prior to August 28, 2010, but was not receiving sewer service from such district or such city as of August 28, 2010. For the purposes of this section, “not receiving sewer service” shall mean that no sewer services are being sold within the annexed territory by such district or city. If the city and the board reach an agreement that detaches any territory from such district, the agreement shall be submitted to the circuit court having jurisdiction over the major portion, and the circuit court shall make an order and judgment detaching the territory described in the agreement from the remainder of the district and stating the boundary lines of the district after such detachment. At such time that the circuit court's order and judgment becomes final, the clerk of the circuit court shall file certified copies of such order and judgment with the secretary of state and with the recorder of deeds and the county clerk of the county or counties in which the district is located. If an agreement is developed between a city and a sewer district pursuant to this subsection, subsections 2 to 8 of this section shall not apply to such agreement.

2. In the event that the board of trustees of such district and the city cannot reach such an agreement, an application may be made by the board or the city to the circuit court requesting that three commissioners develop such an agreement. Such application shall include the name of one commissioner appointed by the applying party. The second party shall appoint one commissioner within thirty days of the service of the application upon the second party. If the second party fails to appoint a commissioner within such time period, the circuit court shall appoint a commissioner on behalf of the second party. Such two named commissioners may agree to appoint a third disinterested commissioner within thirty days after the appointment of the second commissioner. In the event that the two named commissioners cannot agree on or fail to appoint the third disinterested commissioner within thirty days after the appointment of the second commissioner, the circuit court shall appoint the third disinterested commissioner.

3. Upon the filing of such application and the appointment of three such commissioners, the circuit court shall set a time for one or more hearings and shall order a public notice including the nature of the application, the annexed area affected, the names of the commissioners, and the time and place of such hearings, to be published for three weeks consecutively in a newspaper published in the county in which the application is pending, the last publication to be not more than seven days before the date set for the first hearing.

4. The commissioners shall develop an agreement between the district and the city to provide sewer service to the annexed territory. In developing the agreement, the commissioners shall consider information presented to them at hearings and any other information at their disposal including, but not limited to:

- (1) The estimated future loss of revenue and costs for the sewer district related to the agreement;
- (2) The amount of indebtedness of the sewer district within the annexed territory;
- (3) Any contractual obligations of the sewer district within the annexed area; and

(4) The effect of the agreement on the sewer rates of the district.

The agreement shall also include a recommendation for the apportionment of costs incurred pursuant to subsections 2 to 8 of this section, including reasonable compensation for the commissioners, between the city and the district.

5. If the circuit court finds that the agreement provides for necessary sewer service in the annexed territory, then such agreement shall be fully effective upon approval by the circuit court. The circuit court shall also review the recommended apportionment of court costs incurred and the reasonable compensation for the commissioners and affirm or modify such recommendations.

6. The order and judgment of the circuit court shall be subject to appeal as provided by law.

7. If the circuit court approves a detachment as part of the territorial agreement, it shall make its order and judgment detaching the territory described in the application from the remainder of the district and stating the boundary lines of the district after such detachment.

8. At such time that the circuit court's order and judgment becomes final, the clerk of the circuit court shall file certified copies of such order and judgment with the secretary of state and with the recorder of deeds and the county clerk of the county or counties in which the district is located.

9. The proportion of the sum of all outstanding bonds and debt, with interest thereon, that is required to be paid to the sewer district pursuant to this section, shall be the same as the proportion of the assessed valuation of the real and tangible personal property within the area sought to be detached bears to the assessed valuation of all of the real and tangible personal property within the entire area of the sewer district.”; and

SENATE SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 18

WHEREAS, the current state of health care affordability and accessibility in Missouri is in need of serious attention; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly has both the responsibility and moral duty to produce public policy solutions to help make health care more affordable and accessible for all citizens; and

WHEREAS, simply expressing the General Assembly's wishes to the United States Congress is not going to have any discernable affect on this important issue:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby establishes the "Commission on the Reorganization of State Health Care". The commission shall have as its purpose the study, review, and recommendation of creating a "Division of State Health Care" within the office of administration, which shall be dedicated to providing health care coverage for all state employees, dependents, and retirees and those recipients of programs. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the commission shall submit a report to the general assembly and governor by December 31, 2010, on the creation of a "Division of State Health Care" within the office of administration to serve, through three implementation phases, as the lead planning state entity for all health issues in the state. The commission's duties shall be as follows:

(1) Provide an analysis on whether the creation of a division of state health care would:

(a) Remedy the current situation wherein the responsibility for health care policy, purchasing, planning, and regulation is spread among many different agencies and departments;

(b) Permit the state to maximize its purchasing power inasmuch as the state now has none of its health care purchasing coordinated;

(c) Minimize duplication and maximize administrative efficiency in the state's health care systems by removing overlapping functions and streamlining uncoordinated programs;

(d) Allow the state to develop a better health care infrastructure that is more responsive to the consumers it serves while improving access to and coverage for health care; and

(e) Focus more attention and divisional procedures on the issue of wellness, including diet, exercise, and personal responsibility;

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 55

WHEREAS, our nation is fortunate to possess a wealth of natural resources and we have a long history of stewardship of these resources; and

WHEREAS, just as a farmer carefully tends the land on which his survival depends, many of our country's best resource stewards are those who use the resource and for whom the resource holds intrinsic value for sustenance, survival, or cultural tradition; and

WHEREAS, recreational fishermen and women are prime examples of responsible resource stewards, as they place an extremely high value on the quality and existence of our nation's coastal waters and freshwater resources. Recreational fishermen and women respect our country's marine and freshwater habitats because they know that in order for these ecosystems to sustain the aquatic life and natural wonder for which they are sought, these resources must be protected and carefully managed; and

WHEREAS, fishing as a pastime in our country boasts strong support, with 93 percent of Americans indicating they support legal recreational fishing, and it is an activity that is enjoyed by Americans across all age, gender, socio-economic, and ethnic distinctions; and

WHEREAS, recreational fishermen and women contribute significantly to the national and regional economies through equipment and gear purchases, fuel, lodging, and food, with total related sportfishing expenditures exceeding $125 billion and supporting over 1 million jobs; and

WHEREAS, President Obama created an Interagency Ocean Policy Task Force in June of 2009 charged with recommending a national policy to ensure the protection, maintenance, and restoration of oceans, our coasts, and the Great Lakes; and

WHEREAS, the Task Force has issued two reports since its creation, the Interim Report of the Interagency Ocean Policy Task Force and the Interim Framework for Effective Coastal and Marine Spatial Planning, however the Task Force has failed to expressly recognize responsibly-regulated recreational fishing as a national priority for the oceans and Great Lakes in either of these reports; and

WHEREAS, without its recognition as a national priority, recreational fishing opportunities could become more limited, curtailed, or even potentially eliminated:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby strenuously urge President Obama to include recreational fishing and boating as national priorities and ensure and promote recreational fishing and access to public waters in the Interagency Ocean Policy Task Force's concluding report and any forthcoming Executive Order based upon the report; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members strongly urge the members of Congress to take any measure within their power to mitigate or overturn any Executive Order issued to implement recommendations by the Interagency Ocean Policy Task Force if such recommendations do not include responsibly-regulated recreational fishing and boating as national priorities for oceans, our coasts, and the Great Lakes and if such recommendations do not ensure and promote recreational fishing and access to public waters; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for President Obama, the Chairperson of the Interagency Ocean Policy Task Force, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the President of the United States Senate, and members of the Missouri congressional delegation.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 1922

Whereas, the members of the Missouri Senate feel it is altogether right and proper to pause from time to time to observe exemplary accomplishments of Missouri citizens who have distinguished themselves as exceptional athletes and competitors; and

Whereas, the members now pause to recognize David “Chubbs” Stillman, an eighteen-year-old senior at Kirkwood High School and a valued manager for the Pioneers varsity basketball team; and

Whereas, for the past four years, Chubbs Stillman has been working behind the scenes handing out cups of water and dry towels, slapping “high-fives”, and building up rapport with the varsity players and coaches; and

Whereas, on Monday, January 4, 2010, in the Kirkwood High School gymnasium as a game against Fox High School was rapidly drawing to a close, Chubbs Stillman was sent out on the court, this time as a player wearing jersey #23, the same number as his basketball hero Michael Jordan; and

Whereas, with his feet planted firmly on the court behind the 3-point line right in front of his own bench, Chubbs Stillman caught a perfectly thrown pass from senior guard Ahmad Hicks and then sent the ball on its way to the basket; and

Whereas, the three-point shot launched by Chubbs Stillman swished the net to cinch the victory as his teammates and fans jumped to their feet and raised him on their shoulders as a newly-certified Big Man on Campus; and

Whereas, remarkably, Chubbs Stillman had never before played in a high school basketball game before being thrust into the spotlight in the waning seconds of a Kirkwood-Fox basketball game that will be celebrated for a long, long time; and

Whereas, David Stillman is the devoted son of Kevin and Ann Stillman, the brother of Adam and Nate and sister, Laura; and

Whereas, it is an honor and a pleasure for the members of the Missouri Senate to recognize outstanding young Missouri citizens like David Stillman:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, extend our most sincere congratulations to David Stillman on this momentous occasion; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for presentation to David Stillman.

Senator Shoemyer offered Senate Resolution No. 1923, regarding the Eightieth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Itschner, Perry, which was adopted.

Senator Purgason offered Senate Resolution No. 1924, regarding the Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Graff, Lebanon, which was adopted.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following messages were received from the House of Representatives through its Chief Clerk:

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 16.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 16

Whereas, the rivers and streams of the State of Missouri are a great natural resource and benefit to the citizens of Missouri and the aquatic life therein; and

Whereas, these rivers and streams run through the heartland and fertile bottom lands that produce our abundant food supply; and

Whereas, the farmers and landowners who have lived and farmed on these stream banks for generations have the right to protect and preserve their precious soil; and

Whereas, these streams need to be managed in a manner that is beneficial to the stream's aquatic life as well as the farmer's interest in protecting private property; and

Whereas, the federal and state agencies in charge of regulating in-stream activities, including stream bank stabilization, gravel removal and excavation, willow removal, or a combination thereof, and their commenting groups should use unbiased scientific studies and evidence of projects completed in the past by agencies or individuals; and

Whereas, the federal and state agencies as well as their commenting groups that are in charge of protecting the aquatic life and environment of these streams and rivers should base their decisions and practices on unbiased scientific studies or facts and not undertake actions to achieve policy goals:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular

Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby promote the use of sound scientific research and data that is produced from unbiased university studies; and

Be it further resolved that federal and state agencies as well as their commenting groups base past and future decisions and practices involving any stream activity inside the high banks on unbiased scientific university studies along with practices that have been proven effective over generations of landowner implementing; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the United States Army Corps of Engineers, the Bureau of Land Management and the Fish and Wildlife Service within the United States Department of Interior, the United States Environmental Protection Agency, the United States Department of Agriculture, the Missouri Department of Conservation, the Missouri Department of Agriculture, and the Missouri Department of Natural Resources.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 52.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 52

Whereas, sickle cell disease is an inherited blood disorder that affects red blood cells. People with sickle cell disease have red blood cells that contain an abnormal type of hemoglobin; and

Whereas, normal red blood cells contain hemoglobin A. Hemoglobin S and hemoglobin C are abnormal types of hemoglobin; and

Whereas, red blood cells containing mostly hemoglobin S do not live as long as normal red blood cells and have difficulty passing through the body's small vessels. These hemoglobin S red blood cells can block small blood vessels, resulting in tissue damage due to less blood reaching that portion of the body; and

Whereas, sickle cell trait is an inherited condition in which both hemoglobin A and S are produced in the red blood cells, always more A than S. Sickle cell trait is not a type of sickle cell disease; and

Whereas, sickle cell conditions are inherited from parents in much the same way as blood type, hair color and texture, eye color and other physical traits. The types of hemoglobin a person makes in the red blood cells depend upon what hemoglobin genes the person inherits from his or her parents; and

Whereas, since sickle cell conditions are inherited from parents, it is important for people to be aware if they are a carrier before having children; and

Whereas, more than 80,000 people in the United States have sickle cell disease, affecting mostly persons of African heritage according to the National Institute of Health. Currently, there is no universal cure for sickle cell disease; and

Whereas, sickle cell disease results in a shortened life expectancy, with the average life expectancy being 42 years for men and 48 years for women; and

Whereas, based on the population of 5 million in the State of Missouri, 600,000 are African American. 1 out of 400 suffers with sickle cell conditions and 1 out of 12 has the sickle cell trait; and

Whereas, with these estimated numbers, there are approximately 1,500 individuals with sickle cell conditions and 50,000 individuals with sickle cell trait in the State of Missouri; and

Whereas, approximately 700 children, adolescents, and young adults with sickle cell disease reside in the St. Louis Metropolitan area. However, less than 25% of this sickle cell population will graduate from high school or seek higher education; and

Whereas, health maintenance for persons with sickle cell disease starts with early diagnosis, preferably when a newborn; and

Whereas, treatment of complications often includes antibiotics, pain management, intravenous fluids, blood transfusions, and surgery in combination with psychosocial support; and

Whereas, there are promising new treatments being developed which can prevent red blood cells from sickling without causing harm to other parts of the body, reduce the frequency of severe pain, acute chest syndrome, and the need for blood transfusions, and provide options to eliminate iron overload caused by repeated blood transfusions; and

Whereas, public awareness about sickle cell trait and disease and the numerous programs and screening available is vital to reduce to pervasiveness of sickle cell conditions:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby designate the week of May 9 - 15, 2010, as "Sickle Cell Awareness Week" in Missouri; and

Be it further resolved that the General Assembly encourages and urges all citizens of this state to participate in activities during Sickle Cell Awareness Week to address the pervasiveness of sickle cell trait and disease and the need to increase public awareness of the available programs and screenings.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following message was received from the House of Representatives through its Chief Clerk:

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 46.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 46

Whereas, energy policy and regulation are vital to Missouri's economy and which have a direct impact on Missouri families, farmers, businesses, and employees; and

Whereas, H.R. 2454, the American Clean Energy and Security Act of 2009, also known as the "Waxman-Markey" and "Cap and Trade", passed by the United States House of Representatives and now pending before the United States Senate, will have a dramatic effect on every American, increase the cost of supplying homes and businesses with electricity, cause job losses, and impose burdensome costs on the poor and families with incomes of less than $10,000 annually for whom energy costs today make up 60% of their average family expenses, and for families with incomes of $10,000 to $25,000 annually, such costs make up 25% of their average family expenses; and

Whereas, on December 7, 2009, the Administrator for the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) signed two distinct findings regarding greenhouse gases under Section 202(c) of the federal Clean Air Act:

(1) Endangerment Finding: the Administrator finds that the current and projected concentrations of the six key well-mixed greenhouse gases - carbon dioxide (CO<sub>2</sub>), methane (CH<sub>4</sub>), nitrous oxide (N<sub>2</sub>O), hydrofluorocarbons (HFCs), perfluorocarbons (PFCs), and sulfur hexafluoride (SF<sub>6</sub>) - in the atmosphere threaten the public health and welfare of current and future generations;

(2) Cause and Contribute Finding: the administrator finds that the combined emissions of these well-mixed greenhouse gases from new motor vehicles and new motor vehicle engines contribute to the greenhouse gas pollution which threatens public health and welfare; and

Whereas, this finding by the EPA, if implemented, will cost Missouri jobs and raise electric rates on families, farmers, businesses, and employees; and

Whereas, the people of Missouri are dependent on coal for their electricity, obtaining approximately 80 - 85% of electrical energy from coal for their homes, farms, and businesses. This heavy dependence on coal is common throughout the Midwestern states; and

Whereas, Missouri's electric rates consistently rank among the lowest cost states in the union, and is one of only three states in the United States to see electricity rates drop in the years 2000 to 2008, and by the largest percentage (6%), making Missouri attractive to business and industry, creating jobs, and making Missouri a low-cost place to live; and

Whereas, the technology of the 21st Century is providing cleaner yet still affordable baseload electrical generation from coal, including Super Critical Pulverized Coal (Prairie State in Illinois) and Ultra Supercritical Pulverized Coal (Turk in Arkansas) as well as developing options for coal to liquids, coal to gas, and carbon sequestration; and

Whereas, the focus in Missouri and throughout the coal-dependent Midwest should be on how to use technology to burn coal more cleanly and move towards cleaner burning options like Ultra Supercritical Pulverized Coal, rather than a punitive system that drives up costs, leads to lower baseload energy production, and inhibits or prevents progress on a fuel that the United States has in abundance within its own borders:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby:

(1) Request that our elected statewide officials express their opposition to the further acceptance or approval of the Environmental Protection Agency formal endangerment finding on greenhouse gases;

(2) Convey that it is not well taken by and harmful to the State of Missouri;

(3) Urge the Environmental Protection Agency to rescind their recent formal endangerment finding on greenhouse gases; and

Be it further resolved that the Missouri General Assembly hereby urges our Missouri Congressional delegation to vote against H.R. 2454, the American Clean Energy Act of 2009, and further requests that our elected statewide officials express their respective positions on the passage of H.R. 2454 and send a unified message to our Missouri Congressional delegation; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Governor Jay Nixon, President Barack Obama, President of the United States Senate, Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FORTIETH DAY—WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24, 2010

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Let’s not be afraid to look at everything that has brought us to where we are now and trust that we will soon see in it the guiding hand of a loving God.” (Henri Nouwen)

Merciful Father, we each here have our stressors and continue to pray for guidance. Help us, we pray, that we can see Your guiding hand in what is before us. Help us be humble and realize that we are but temporary managers here in the Senate allowed to exercise authority and make decisions as You direct us. May we be good stewards of the blessings and responsibilities You have entrusted to us as we serve those who elected us. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

Journal of the Senate

---

FORTY-FIRST DAY—THURSDAY, MARCH 25, 2010

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“The tongue is the heart’s pen and the mind’s messenger.” (Bahya)

O Lord, we pray that You will be with us today as we finish up the work that is before us and then head home. Make us mindful that our words convey much to those who love us and we ask that our words transmit what they really mean to us. Help us show our love more in the gift of our time and attention and make them a priority in our lives especially when we are able to be with them. Help us keep our word to our children and grandchildren so that they may know that in a world that is increasingly glib about what they promise our word is true. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

(1) Motor fuel or special fuel subject to an excise tax of this state, unless all or part of such excise tax is refunded pursuant to section 142.824, RSMo; or upon the sale at retail of fuel to be consumed in manufacturing or creating gas, power, steam, electrical current or in furnishing water to be sold ultimately at retail; or feed for livestock or poultry; or grain to be converted into foodstuffs which are to be sold ultimately in processed form at retail; or seed, limestone or fertilizer which is to be used for seeding, liming or fertilizing crops which when harvested will be sold at retail or will be fed to livestock or poultry to be sold ultimately in processed form at retail; economic poisons registered pursuant to the provisions of the Missouri pesticide registration law (sections 281.220 to 281.310, RSMo) which are to be used in connection with the growth or production of crops, fruit trees or orchards applied before, during, or after planting, the crop of which when harvested will be sold at retail or will be converted into foodstuffs which are to be sold ultimately in processed form at retail;

Journal of the Senate

---

FORTY-FIFTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, MARCH 31, 2010

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Stouffer in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Without the aid of tradition, neither the rational nor the scriptural laws can be completely fulfilled.” (Bahya)

Heavenly Father, we know that there have been periods of time when people have sought to throw out all traditions believing that they block our becoming all we can. Yet time has shown that traditions help us to have an understanding why we have done what we have and the outcome of our actions. Help us be mindful that tradition provides us with a firm foundation on which we can stand and build new and needed actions and helpful results for those who need them. Walk with us this day and provide us the wisdom we need. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

4. For the fiscal year beginning on July 1, 2010, an amount equal to one hundred percent of the aggregate cap provided under subsection 3 of this section shall be allocated to the department for authorizations of tax credits provided under section 135.041. For all fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 2011, an amount equal to eighty percent of the aggregate cap provided under subsection 3 of this section shall be allocated to the department for authorizations of tax credits provided under section 135.041.

5. For all fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 2011, the general assembly may allocate to the department an amount not to exceed twenty percent of the aggregate cap established under subsection 3 of this section for authorizations of tax credits provided under section 135.041. The allocation provided under this subsection shall only be made in the annual appropriation bill relating to public debt and shall specify the percentage allocated to the department for that fiscal year.

6. By July 1, 2010, and the first day of July each year thereafter, the Missouri housing development commission shall prepare and submit to the department for approval a recommended plan for authorizing the tax credits allocated for the next fiscal year. The department shall consider the recommended plan in preparing the draft allocation plan. By no later than October 1, 2010, and the first day of October each year thereafter, the department shall prepare and publish for review and public comment a draft allocation plan setting forth the proposed allocation of tax credits for each of the tax credits provided under section 135.041 for the next fiscal year. The draft allocation plan shall provide for an allocation by the department:

(1) Equal to no less than five percent of the aggregate cap provided under subsection 3 of this section for authorizations of tax credits for community assistance under section 135.041;

(2) Equal to no less than four percent of the aggregate cap provided under subsection 3 of this section for authorizations of tax credits for financial and insurance institutions under section 135.041;

(6) Equal to no less than thirty percent of the aggregate cap provided under subsection 3 of this section for authorizations of tax credits for business development under section 135.041.

7. The allocation plan shall include, at a minimum, the following information:

(5) Any priorities established for the authorization of tax credits provided under section 135.041.

8. Following an opportunity for public comment on the draft allocation plan, but in no event later than January 1, 2011, and by the first day of January each year thereafter, the department shall approve and transmit the allocation plan, along with any public comments received thereon, to the budget committee of the house of representatives and the appropriations committee of the senate. The allocation plan shall govern the authorization of tax credits provided under section 135.041, except that the department shall adjust the allocation plan to reflect any amounts allocated by the general assembly under subsection 5 of this section by no later than the first day of July of each year in which such an allocation is made.

9. By no later than September 1, 2011, and the first day of September each year thereafter, the department shall present an annual report to the general assembly detailing the authorization of tax credits provided under section 135.041 during the prior fiscal year to the extent such information may otherwise be disclosed under state and federal law. The report shall include, but not be limited to:

(2) A list of the aggregate amount of new jobs created which are directly attributable to tax credits authorized under the provisions of section 135.041;

(3) A statement of the aggregate amount of private investment directly attributable to tax credits authorized under the provisions of section 135.041;

(4) Document the estimated benefit for each authorized project or activity and the actual benefit realized upon completion of such project or activity;

(5) A list of other beneficiaries or outcomes directly attributable to tax credits authorized under the provisions of section 135.041.

135.041. 1. The department shall be the administering agency for all tax credits authorized under this section. The department may consult with other state agencies when evaluating applications for tax credits under this section. Except as otherwise provided under this section and section 135.040, the decision to approve any application for tax credits provided under this section and the amount of any such credit to be authorized shall be made at the discretion of the director.

A uniform discount rate shall be included in the allocation plan approved by the department and applied by the Missouri housing development commission to all authorizations of tax credits for the purpose of providing affordable housing in that fiscal year.

5. For all taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010, the department may, subject to the provisions of section 135.040 authorize a tax credit of up to fifty percent of eligible project costs incurred for an eligible project or activity for the purpose of providing public infrastructure.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 815, Page 1, Section A, Line 2, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“160.405. 1. A person, group or organization seeking to establish a charter school shall submit the proposed charter, as provided in this section, to a sponsor. If the sponsor is not a school board, the applicant shall give a copy of its application to the school board of the district in which the charter school is to be located and to the state board of education, within five business days of the date the application is filed with the proposed sponsor. The school board may file objections with the proposed sponsor, and, if a charter is granted, the school board may file objections with the state board of education. The charter shall include a mission statement for the charter school, a description of the charter school's organizational structure and bylaws of the governing body, which will be responsible for the policy and operational decisions of the charter school, a financial plan for the first three years of operation of the charter school including provisions for annual audits, a description of the charter school's policy for securing personnel services, its personnel policies, personnel qualifications, and professional development plan, a description of the grades or ages of students being served, the school's calendar of operation, which shall include at least the equivalent of a full school term as defined in section 160.011, and an outline of criteria specified in this section designed to measure the effectiveness of the school. The charter shall also state:

- (1) The educational goals and objectives to be achieved by the charter school;
- (2) A description of the charter school's educational program and curriculum;
- (3) The term of the charter, which shall be not less than five years, nor greater than ten years and shall be renewable;
- (4) A description of the charter school's pupil performance standards, which must meet the requirements of subdivision (6) of subsection 5 of this section. The charter school program must be designed to enable each pupil to achieve such standards;
- (5) A description of the governance and operation of the charter school, including the nature and extent of parental, professional educator, and community involvement in the governance and operation of the charter school; and
- (6) A description of the charter school's policies on student discipline and student admission, which shall include a statement, where applicable, of the validity of attendance of students who do not reside in the district but who may be eligible to attend under the terms of judicial settlements.

2. Proposed charters shall be subject to the following requirements:

(1) A charter may be approved when the sponsor determines that the requirements of this section are met and determines that the applicant is sufficiently qualified to operate a charter school. The sponsor's decision of approval or denial shall be made within ninety days of the filing of the proposed charter;

(2) If the charter is denied, the proposed sponsor shall notify the applicant in writing as to the reasons for its denial and forward a copy to the state board of education within five business days following the denial;

(3) If a proposed charter is denied by a sponsor, the proposed charter may be submitted to the state board of education, along with the sponsor's written reasons for its denial. If the state board determines that the applicant meets the requirements of this section, that the applicant is sufficiently qualified to operate the charter school, and that granting a charter to the applicant would be likely to provide educational benefit to the children of the district, the state board may grant a charter and act as sponsor of the charter school. The state board shall review the proposed charter and make a determination of whether to deny or grant the proposed charter within sixty days of receipt of the proposed charter, provided that any charter to be considered by the state board of education under this subdivision shall be submitted no later than March first prior to the school year in which the charter school intends to begin operations. The state board of education shall notify the applicant in writing as the reasons for its denial, if applicable; and

(4) The sponsor of a charter school shall give priority to charter school applicants that propose a school oriented to high-risk students and to the reentry of dropouts into the school system. If a sponsor grants three or more charters, at least one-third of the charters granted by the sponsor shall be to schools that actively recruit dropouts or high-risk students as their student body and address the needs of dropouts or high-risk students through their proposed mission, curriculum, teaching methods, and services. For purposes of this subsection, a "high-risk" student is one who is at least one year behind in satisfactory completion of course work or obtaining credits for graduation, pregnant or a parent, homeless or has been homeless sometime within the preceding six months, has limited English proficiency, has been suspended from school three or more times, is eligible for free or reduced-price school lunch, or has been referred by the school district for enrollment in an alternative program. "Dropout" shall be defined through the guidelines of the school core data report. The provisions of this subsection do not apply to charters sponsored by the state board of education.

3. If a charter is approved by a sponsor, the charter application shall be submitted to the state board of education, along with a statement of finding that the application meets the requirements of sections 160.400 to 160.420 and section 167.439, RSMo, and a monitoring plan under which the charter sponsor will evaluate the academic performance of students enrolled in the charter school. The state board of education may, within sixty days, disapprove the granting of the charter. The state board of education may disapprove a charter on grounds that the application fails to meet the requirements of sections 160.400 to 160.420 and section 167.349, RSMo, or that a charter sponsor previously failed to meet the statutory responsibilities of a charter sponsor.

4. Any disapproval of a charter pursuant to subsection 3 of this section shall be subject to judicial review pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo.

5. A charter school shall, as provided in its charter:

- (1) Be nonsectarian in its programs, admission policies, employment practices, and all other operations;
- (2) Comply with laws and regulations of the state, county, or city relating to health, safety, and state minimum educational standards, as specified by the state board of education, including the requirements relating to student discipline under sections 160.261, 167.161, 167.164, and 167.171, RSMo, notification of criminal conduct to law enforcement authorities under sections 167.115 to 167.117, RSMo, academic assessment under section 160.518, transmittal of school records under section 167.020, RSMo, and the minimum number of school days and hours required under section 160.041;

(3) Except as provided in sections 160.400 to 160.420, be exempt from all laws and rules relating to schools, governing boards and school districts;

(4) Be financially accountable, use practices consistent with the Missouri financial accounting manual, provide for an annual audit by a certified public accountant, publish audit reports and annual financial reports as provided in chapter 165, RSMo, provided that the annual financial report may be published on the department of elementary and secondary education's Internet web site in addition to other publishing requirements, and provide liability insurance to indemnify the school, its board, staff and teachers against tort claims. A charter school that receives local educational agency status under subsection 6 of this section shall meet the requirements imposed by the Elementary and Secondary Education Act for audits of such agencies. For purposes of an audit by petition under section 29.230, RSMo, a charter school shall be treated as a political subdivision on the same terms and conditions as the school district in which it is located. For the purposes of securing such insurance, a charter school shall be eligible for the Missouri public entity risk management fund pursuant to section 537.700, RSMo. A charter school that incurs debt must include a repayment plan in its financial plan;

(5) Provide a comprehensive program of instruction for at least one grade or age group from kindergarten through grade twelve, which may include early childhood education if funding for such programs is established by statute, as specified in its charter;

(6) (a) Design a method to measure pupil progress toward the pupil academic standards adopted by the state board of education pursuant to section 160.514, collect baseline data during at least the first three years for determining how the charter school is performing and to the extent applicable, participate in the statewide system of assessments, comprised of the essential skills tests and the nationally standardized norm-referenced achievement tests, as designated by the state board pursuant to section 160.518, complete and distribute an annual report card as prescribed in section 160.522, which shall also include a statement that background checks have been completed on the charter school's board members, report to its sponsor, the local school district, and the state board of education as to its teaching methods and any educational innovations and the results thereof, and provide data required for the study of charter schools pursuant to subsection 4 of section 160.410. No charter school will be considered in the Missouri school improvement program review of the district in which it is located for the resource or process standards of the program.

(b) For proposed high risk or alternative charter schools, sponsors shall approve performance measures based on mission, curriculum, teaching methods, and services. Sponsors shall also approve comprehensive academic and behavioral measures to determine whether students are meeting performance standards on a different time frame as specified in that school's charter. Student performance shall be assessed comprehensively to determine whether a high risk or alternative charter school has documented adequate student progress. Student performance shall be based on sponsor-approved comprehensive measures as well as standardized public school measures. Annual presentation of charter school report card data to the department of elementary and secondary education, the state board, and the public shall include comprehensive measures of student progress.

(c) Nothing in this [paragraph] subdivision shall be construed as permitting a charter school to be held to lower performance standards than other public schools within a district; however, the charter of a charter school may permit students to meet performance standards on a different time frame as specified in its charter;

(7) Assure that the needs of special education children are met in compliance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations;

(8) Provide along with any request for review by the state board of education the following:

(a) Documentation that the applicant has provided a copy of the application to the school board of the district in which the charter school is to be located, except in those circumstances where the school district is the sponsor of the charter school; and

(b) A statement outlining the reasons for approval or disapproval by the sponsor, specifically addressing the requirements of sections 160.400 to 160.420 and 167.349, RSMo.

6. (1) Proposed or existing high risk or alternative charter schools may include alternative arrangements for students to obtain credit for satisfying graduation requirements in the school's charter application and charter. Alternative arrangements may include, but not be limited to, credit for off-campus instruction, embedded credit, work experience through a paid or unpaid internship arranged through the school, and independent studies. When the state board of education approves the charter, any such alternative arrangements shall be approved at such time.

(2) The department of elementary and secondary education shall conduct a study of any charter school granted alternative arrangements for students to obtain credit under this subsection after three years of operation to assess student performance, graduation rates, educational outcomes, and entry into the workforce or higher education.

7. The charter of a charter school may be amended at the request of the governing body of the charter school and on the approval of the sponsor. The sponsor and the governing board and staff of the charter school shall jointly review the school's performance, management and operations at least once every two years or at any point where the operation or management of the charter school is changed or transferred to another entity, either public or private. The governing board of a charter school may amend the charter, if the sponsor approves such amendment, or the sponsor and the governing board may reach an agreement in writing to reflect the charter school's decision to become a local educational agency for the sole purpose of seeking direct access to federal grants. In such case the sponsor shall give the department of elementary and secondary education written notice no later than March first of any year, with the agreement to become effective July first. The department may waive the March first notice date in its discretion. The department shall identify and furnish a list of its regulations that pertain to local educational agencies to such schools within thirty days of receiving such notice.

[7.] 8. (1) A sponsor shall revoke a charter or take other appropriate remedial action, which may include placing the charter school on probationary status, at any time if the charter school commits a serious breach of one or more provisions of its charter or on any of the following grounds: failure to meet academic performance standards as set forth in its charter, failure to meet generally accepted standards of fiscal management, failure to provide information necessary to confirm compliance with all provisions of the charter and sections 160.400 to 160.420 and 167.349, RSMo, within forty-five days following receipt of written notice requesting such information, or violation of law.

(2) The sponsor may place the charter school on probationary status to allow the implementation of a remedial plan, which may require a change of methodology, a change in leadership, or both, after which, if such plan is unsuccessful, the charter may be revoked.

(3) At least sixty days before acting to revoke a charter, the sponsor shall notify the governing board of the charter school of the proposed action in writing. The notice shall state the grounds for the proposed action. The school's governing board may request in writing a hearing before the sponsor within two weeks of receiving the notice.

(4) The sponsor of a charter school shall establish procedures to conduct administrative hearings upon determination by the sponsor that grounds exist to revoke a charter. Final decisions of a sponsor from hearings conducted pursuant to this subsection are subject to judicial review pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo.

(5) A termination shall be effective only at the conclusion of the school year, unless the sponsor determines that continued operation of the school presents a clear and immediate threat to the health and safety of the children.

(6) A charter sponsor shall make available the school accountability report card information as provided under section 160.522 and the results of the academic monitoring required under subsection 3 of this section.

[8.] 9. A sponsor shall take all reasonable steps necessary to confirm that each charter school sponsored by such sponsor is in material compliance and remains in material compliance with all material provisions of the charter and sections 160.400 to 160.420 and 167.349, RSMo. Every charter school shall provide all information necessary to confirm ongoing compliance with all provisions of its charter and sections 160.400 to 160.420 and 167.349, RSMo, in a timely manner to its sponsor.

[9.] 10. A school district may enter into a lease with a charter school for physical facilities.

[10.] 11. A governing board or a school district employee who has control over personnel actions shall not take unlawful reprisal against another employee at the school district because the employee is directly or indirectly involved in an application to establish a charter school. A governing board or a school district employee shall not take unlawful reprisal against an educational program of the school or the school district because an application to establish a charter school proposes the conversion of all or a portion of the educational program to a charter school. As used in this subsection, "unlawful reprisal" means an action that is taken by a governing board or a school district employee as a direct result of a lawful application to establish a charter school and that is adverse to another employee or an educational program.

[11.] 12. Charter school board members shall be subject to the same liability for acts while in office as if they were regularly and duly elected members of school boards in any other public school district in this state. The governing board of a charter school may participate, to the same extent as a school board, in the Missouri public entity risk management fund in the manner provided under sections 537.700 to 537.756, RSMo.

[12.] 13. Any entity, either public or private, operating, administering, or otherwise managing a charter school shall be considered a quasi-public governmental body and subject to the provisions of sections 610.010 to 610.035, RSMo.

[13.] 14. The chief financial officer of a charter school shall maintain:

(1) A surety bond in an amount determined by the sponsor to be adequate based on the cash flow of the school; or

(2) An insurance policy issued by an insurance company licensed to do business in Missouri on all employees in the amount of five hundred thousand dollars or more that provides coverage in the event of employee theft.

160.410. 1. A charter school shall enroll:

(1) All pupils resident in the district in which it operates;

(2) Nonresident pupils eligible to attend a district's school under an urban voluntary transfer program; [and]

(3) In the case of a charter school whose mission includes student drop-out prevention or recovery, any nonresident pupil who is considered high risk or a dropout who resides in a residential care facility, a transitional living group home, or an independent living program and whose last school of enrollment is in the school district where the charter school is established, who submits a timely application; and

(4) In the case of a workplace charter school, any student eligible to attend under subdivision (1) or (2) of this subsection whose parent is employed in the business district, who submits a timely application, unless the number of applications exceeds the capacity of a program, class, grade level or building. The configuration of a business district shall be set forth in the charter and shall not be construed to create an undue advantage for a single employer or small number of employers.

2. If capacity is insufficient to enroll all pupils who submit a timely application, the charter school shall have an admissions process that assures all applicants of an equal chance of gaining admission except that:

(1) A charter school may establish a geographical area around the school whose residents will receive a preference for enrolling in the school, provided that such preferences do not result in the establishment of racially or socioeconomically isolated schools and provided such preferences conform to policies and guidelines established by the state board of education; [and]

(2) A charter school may also give a preference for admission of children whose siblings attend the school or whose parents are employed at the school or in the case of a workplace charter school, a child whose parent is employed in the business district or at the business site of such school; and

(3) A charter school whose mission includes student drop-out prevention or recovery as described in subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section shall give preference for admission to resident pupils over nonresident pupils.

3. A charter school shall not limit admission based on race, ethnicity, national origin, disability, gender, income level, proficiency in the English language or athletic ability, but may limit admission to pupils within a given age group or grade level. A charter school may give a preference for admission to high-risk students and dropouts, as defined in subdivision (4) of subsection 2 of section 160.405.

4. The department of elementary and secondary education shall commission a study of the performance of students at each charter school in comparison with an equivalent group of district students representing an equivalent demographic and geographic population and a study of the impact of charter schools upon the constituents they serve in the districts in which they are located, to be conducted by the joint committee on education. The charter school study shall include analysis of the administrative and instructional practices of each charter school and shall include findings on innovative programs that illustrate best practices and lend themselves to replication or incorporation in other schools. The joint committee on education shall coordinate with individuals representing charter [public] schools and the districts in which charter schools are located in conducting the study. The study of a charter school's student performance in relation to a comparable group shall be designed to provide information that would allow parents and educators to make valid comparisons of academic performance between the charter school's students and an equivalent group of district students representing an equivalent demographic and geographic population. The student performance assessment and comparison shall include, but may not be limited to:

- (1) Missouri assessment program test performance and aggregate growth over several years;
- (2) Student reenrollment rates;
- (3) Educator, parent, and student satisfaction data;
- (4) Graduation rates in secondary programs; and

(5) Performance of students enrolled in the same public school for three or more consecutive years. The impact study shall be undertaken every two years to determine the impact of charter schools on the constituents they serve in the districts where charter schools are operated. The impact study shall include, but is not limited to, determining if changes have been made in district policy or procedures attributable to the charter school and to perceived changes in attitudes and expectations on the part of district personnel, school board members, parents, students, the business community and other education stakeholders. The department of elementary and secondary education shall make the results of the studies public and shall deliver copies to the governing boards of the charter schools, the sponsors of the charter schools, the school board and superintendent of the districts in which the charter schools are operated.

5. A charter school shall make available for public inspection, and provide upon request, to the parent, guardian, or other custodian of any school-age pupil resident in the district in which the school is located the following information:

- (1) The school's charter;
- (2) The school's most recent annual report card published according to section 160.522; and

(3) The results of background checks on the charter school's board members. The charter school may charge reasonable fees, not to exceed the rate specified in section 610.026, RSMo, for furnishing copies of documents under this subsection.”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Rupp moved that the above amendment be adopted.

At the request of Senator Bartle, SB 815, with SCS and SA 1 (pending), was placed on the Informal Calendar.

Journal of the Senate

---

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“A man's heart is right when he wills what God wills.” (Thomas Aquinas)

Our Father, You have blessed us with ideals that haunt us and noble desires which move us to do what You desire of us. Keep us from anything that keeps us from making the ideal into the real, from laziness that will not make an effort or idleness which loves to do nothing. Keep us O Lord from procrastination which puts things off until it is too late ever to do them and from a lack of perseverance which gives up too easily. So grant us a vision of Your Holy Will and to make that vision into the real. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

WHEREAS, as a result of EPA's action, major new sources of electric generation will be mandated to obtain Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) permits setting forth Best Available Control Technology requirements for greenhouse gases; and

WHEREAS, major uncertainty exists because trial technologies, such as carbon capture and sequestration or integrated gasification combined cycle power plants, which hold significant prospect to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, are still years away from being proven to be economically practicable or commercially available; and

WHEREAS, this uncertainty could paralyze the long-term planning and development of new electric generating units in the state at a time when the state faces a critical void in the coming years in the electric power needed to support economic recovery and growth; and

WHEREAS, highly efficient power technologies, such as super-critical and ultra super-critical coal-fired electric generating units, represent a significant advancement over earlier generation coal units in terms of efficient use of coal and in reductions of emissions, and are compatible with carbon capture and sequestration systems when they become commercially viable, which will lead to even further greenhouse gas reductions; and

WHEREAS, these super-critical technologies are already demonstrated to serve the dual purpose of reducing the overall emissions profile of the electricity generation unit while providing efficient, affordable, and available power today and into the future; and

WHEREAS, it is in the state's interest to support the use of these advanced and available technologies that take advantage of existing coal reserves to offer the state significant environmental and economic advantages, rather than delay development of critically needed baseload electricity supply or resort fully to less efficient or more expensive technologies:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the Department of Natural Resources, in issuing PSD permits for new conventional coal-fueled electric generating units, and consistent with otherwise applicable law, to fully consider:

(1) The need to act expeditiously in accordance with the state's need to develop new electric generation; and

(2) The use of commercially available technologies that are designed to be as efficient as is economically practicable, including advanced super-critical pulverized coal, ultra super-critical pulverized coal, and that are designed to be carbon capture and sequestration-compatible, as potential Best Available Control Technology; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution does not amend any state law to which the Department of Natural Resources is subject in the PSD process, and shall be interpreted to be consistent with any requirements of such state or federal law; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Governor Jay Nixon and the Director of the Department of Natural Resources.

Such a policy may only be adopted after a public hearing is held on the question and a majority of the board votes in favor of the question. Any board that votes to adopt the policy described in this section shall contact appropriate officials at the department of elementary and secondary education within thirty days of the affirmative vote. The state board of education shall make any necessary alterations to bring the state's minimum graduation requirements into compliance with this section. This section shall not be construed to impact any of the other minimum graduation requirements approved by the state board of education.”; and in the district.

Senator Shoemyer offered SA 6:

2. The commissioner of education may provide, for any school district in which schools are in session for twelve months of each calendar year that cannot meet the minimum school calendar requirement of actual pupil attendance, upon request, a waiver to be excused from such requirement. Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 7

“167.031. 1. Every parent, guardian or other person in this state having charge, control or custody of a child not enrolled in a public, private, parochial, parish school or full-time equivalent attendance in a combination of such schools and between the ages of seven years and the compulsory attendance age for the district is responsible for enrolling the child in a program of academic instruction which complies with subsection 2 of this section. Any parent, guardian or other person who enrolls a child between the ages of five and seven years in a public school program of academic instruction shall cause such child to attend the academic program on a regular basis, according to this section except as provided in subsection 8 of this section. Nonattendance by such child shall cause such parent, guardian or other responsible person to be in violation of the provisions of section 167.061, except as provided by this section. A parent, guardian or other person in this state having charge, control, or custody of a child between the ages of seven years of age and the compulsory attendance age for the district shall cause the child to attend regularly some public, private, parochial, parish, home school or a combination of such schools not less than the entire school term of the school which the child attends; except that:

(1) A child who, to the satisfaction of the superintendent of public schools of the district in which he resides, or if there is no superintendent then the chief school officer, is determined to be mentally or physically incapacitated may be excused from attendance at school for the full time required, or any part thereof;

(2) A child between fourteen years of age and the compulsory attendance age for the district may be excused from attendance at school for the full time required, or any part thereof, by the superintendent of public schools of the district, or if there is none then by a court of competent jurisdiction, when legal employment has been obtained by the child and found to be desirable, and after the parents or guardian of the child have been advised of the pending action; or

(3) A child between five and seven years of age shall be excused from attendance at school if a parent, guardian or other person having charge, control or custody of the child makes a written request that the child be dropped from the school's rolls.

2. (1) As used in sections 167.031 to 167.071, a “home school” is a school, whether incorporated or unincorporated, that:

(a) Has as its primary purpose the provision of private or religious-based instruction;

(b) Enrolls pupils between the ages of seven years or six years, in accordance with sections 160.051, 160.053, 160.054, and 160.055, beginning in the 2011-2012 school year, for a metropolitan school district and an urban school district containing most or all of a city with a population greater than three hundred fifty thousand inhabitants and the compulsory attendance age for the district, of which no more than four are unrelated by affinity or consanguinity in the third degree; and

(c) Does not charge or receive consideration in the form of tuition, fees, or other remuneration in a genuine and fair exchange for provision of instruction.

(2) As evidence that a child is receiving regular instruction, the parent shall, except as otherwise provided in this subsection:

(a) Maintain the following records:

a. A plan book, diary, or other written record indicating subjects taught and activities engaged in; and

b. A portfolio of samples of the child's academic work; and

c. A record of evaluations of the child's academic progress; or

d. Other written, or credible evidence equivalent to subparagraphs a., b. and c.; and

(b) Offer at least one thousand hours of instruction, at least six hundred hours of which will be in reading, language arts, mathematics, social studies and science or academic courses that are related to the aforementioned subject areas and consonant with the pupil's age and ability. At least four hundred of the six hundred hours shall occur at the regular home school location.

(3) The requirements of subdivision (2) of this subsection shall not apply to any pupil above the age of sixteen years.

3. Nothing in this section shall require a private, parochial, parish or home school to include in its curriculum any concept, topic, or practice in conflict with the school's religious doctrines or to exclude from its curriculum any concept, topic, or practice consistent with the school's religious doctrines. Any other provision of the law to the contrary notwithstanding, all departments or agencies of the state of Missouri shall be prohibited from dictating through rule, regulation or other device any statewide curriculum for private, parochial, parish or home schools.

4. A school year begins on the first day of July and ends on the thirtieth day of June following.

5. The production by a parent of a daily log showing that a home school has a course of instruction which satisfies the requirements of this section or, in the case of a pupil over the age of sixteen years who attended a metropolitan school district the previous year, a written statement that the pupil is attending home school in compliance with this section shall be a defense to any prosecution under this section and to any charge or action for educational neglect brought pursuant to chapter 210, RSMo.

6. As used in sections 167.031 to 167.051, the term “compulsory attendance age for the district” shall mean:

(2) Seventeen years of age or having successfully completed sixteen credits towards high school graduation in all other cases. The school board of a metropolitan school district for which the compulsory attendance age is seventeen years may adopt a resolution to lower the compulsory attendance age to sixteen years; provided that such resolution shall take effect no earlier than the school year next following the school year during which the resolution is adopted.

7. For purposes of subsection 2 of this section as applied in subsection 6 [herein] of this section, a “completed credit towards high school graduation” shall be defined as one hundred hours or more of instruction in a course. Home school education enforcement and records pursuant to this section, and sections 210.167 and 211.031, RSMo, shall be subject to review only by the local prosecuting attorney.

8. A parent, guardian, or other person in this state having charge, control, or custody of a child between the ages of six years of age, in accordance with sections 160.051, 160.035, 160.054, and 160.055, and the compulsory attendance age for the district shall cause the child to attend regularly some public, private, parochial, parish, home school, or combination of such schools not less than the entire school term of the school which the child attends, except that:

(1) A child who, to the satisfaction of the superintendent of public schools of the district in which he resides, or if there is no superintendent then the chief school officer, is determined to be mentally or physically incapacitated may be excused from attendance at school for the full time required, or any part thereof;

(2) A child between fourteen years of age and the compulsory attendance age for the district may be excused from attendance at school for the full time required, or any part thereof, by the superintendent of public schools of the district, or if there is none then by a court of competent jurisdiction, when legal employment has been obtained by the child and found to be desirable, and after the parents or guardian of the child have been advised of the pending action; or

(3) The parent or legal guardian of a child may determine that the child is not ready to attend kindergarten and may enroll the child in an accredited preschool program operating in the school district after providing notification to the school district.”; and

Further amend said bill, page 2, section 171.017, line 14, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“4. No district that adopts a resolution under this section shall lose eligibility to receive state aid pursuant to section 163.021 as a result of implementing a second start date for kindergarten students, irrespective of the timing of, or number of, days of pupil attendance.

5. Any child who begins kindergarten on a second kindergarten start date under this section may be promoted to first grade the subsequent school year if the student's teacher and principal find that the student is adequately prepared. Alternatively, the student's parent or legal guardian may request that the student remain in kindergarten an additional year.”; and

WHEREAS, certain members of the United States Senate have called upon the Secretary of State and the President to forward to them the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child for ratification; and

WHEREAS, Article VI of the Constitution of the United States provides that treaties that are ratified by the United States Senate become a part of the "supreme law of the land" and that state laws and constitutions are subservient to such treaties; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly has repeatedly rejected proposals to ban corporal discipline; and

WHEREAS, by virtue of the federal Supremacy Clause all Missouri law regarding children would be overridden if there is a conflict with this treaty, if ratified; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States would acquire primary jurisdiction to legislate to meet our nation's legal obligation to comply with the treaty if ratified, thereby shifting from Missouri and her sister states to the Congress of the United States powers not formerly delegated which are currently reserved to the states under the Tenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution; and

WHEREAS, the treaty is subject to the general rule of international law that "custom" is binding law in many circumstances, rendering the text of a treaty as an unreliable guide to its future meaning; and

WHEREAS, the United Nations Committee on the Rights of the Child at periodic intervals publishes "General Comments" which are substantive additions to the obligations of state parties already under the Convention; and

WHEREAS, the United Nations Committee on the Rights of the Child makes regular determinations of the meaning and the application of the treaty, and would hold these interpretations to be binding on the Congress of the United States and the courts of the United States when interpreting and enforcing the treaty; and

WHEREAS, this represents a wholesale abandonment of the ultimate sovereignty of the United States on matters within the scope of the treaty; and

WHEREAS, this abandonment violates the core principle of our self-government: to wit, only American legislatures and the people themselves have the moral authority to make law for America; and

WHEREAS, the substance of the treaty, as interpreted and applied by this official United Nations tribunal:

(1) Bans all corporal discipline, including reasonable spanking by parents;

(2) Gives the government review authority of a broad scope of parental decisions without the necessity of proving that the parents are unfit or have harmed the child;

(3) Allows children and government to override reasonable and ordinary decisions concerning the religious upbringing of the child;

(4) Allows the government the ability to review any parental decision concerning the education of a child, even if that decision fully complies with the law of Missouri;

(5) Requires a level of socialized spending programs for the supposed needs of children (which in too many cases simply employ more government workers) that would bankrupt any American state; and

(6) Grants to children a legally enforceable right to leisure and many other particular “rights” that are contrary to American traditions and common sense:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein condemn the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the State of Missouri urges the United States Senate to reject such treaty's ratification; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for each member of the United States Senate.

No person shall participate on behalf of the commission in any case in which such person is an interested party.

2. The commission may assign such appeals as it deems fit to a hearing officer for disposition.

No more than one change of hearing officer shall be allowed for each party in any appeal.

The commission may, prior to the decision being rendered, transfer to another hearing officer the proceedings on an appeal determination before a hearing officer. The complainant, respondent-assessor, or other party shall be duly notified of a hearing officer's decision and order, together with findings of fact and conclusions of law. Appeals from decisions of hearing officers shall be made pursuant to section 138.432.

---

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Pearce in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“If you look for truth, you may find comfort in the end; if you look for comfort you will not get either comfort or truth...” (C.S. Lewis)

Gracious God, it is appropriate for us to heed this saying for this is not a time to seek comfort for it is a stressful time that only can be relieved by working together to find the most fair and balanced solutions that produce the most effective and helpful outcomes. So bless us with wisdom and energy to seek Your will for us and work together to fulfill it, and help us Lord to live it daily with each other. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCS for HCRs 25, 29 and 39.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR
HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NOS. 25, 29 & 39

Whereas, in the American system, sovereignty is defined as final authority, and the people, not government, are sovereign; and

Whereas, the people of the state of Missouri are not united with the people of the other forty-nine states that comprise the United States of America on a principle of unlimited submission to their federal government; and

Whereas, all power not delegated by the people to government is retained; and

Whereas, the people of the several states comprising the United States of America created the federal government to be their agent for certain enumerated purposes only; and

Whereas, this resolution affirms Missouri's sovereignty under the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States and demands the federal government to halt its practice of assuming powers and imposing mandates upon the state for purposes not enumerated by the Constitution of the United States; and

Whereas, Article I, Section 1 of the Missouri Constitution states:

“That all political power is vested in and derived from the people; that all government of right originates from the people, is founded upon their will only, and is instituted solely for the good of the whole.”; and

Whereas, the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States reads as follows:

“The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.”; and

Whereas, the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States assures that each sovereign State possesses rights the federal government may not usurp; and

Whereas, the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States defines the total scope of federal power as being that specifically granted by the Constitution of the United States and no more; and

Whereas, the First Amendment to the Constitution guarantees to “the right of the people...to petition the Government for a redress of grievances”; and

Whereas, today, in 2010, the states are demonstrably treated as agents of the federal government; and

Whereas, many federal laws are directly in violation of the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States; and

Whereas, Article IV, Section 4 of the Constitution of the United States reads that “The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government” and the Ninth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States reads that “The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.”; and

Whereas, the United States Supreme Court has ruled in New York v. United States, 112 S.Ct. 2408 (1992), that Congress may not simply commandeer the legislative and regulatory processes of the states; and

Whereas, a number of proposals from previous administrations and some now pending from the present administration and from Congress may further violate the Constitution of the United States and the Missouri Constitution:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby claims sovereignty under the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States over all powers not otherwise enumerated and granted to the federal government by the Constitution of the United States; and

Be it further resolved that this concurrent resolution serve as Notice and Demand to the federal government, as our agent, to cease and desist, effective immediately, mandates that are beyond the scope of these constitutionally delegated powers; and

Be it further resolved that all compulsory federal legislation which directs states to comply under threat of civil or criminal penalties or sanctions or requires states to pass legislation or lose federal funding be prohibited or repealed; and

Be it further resolved that the sovereign State of Missouri reserves the right to declare any such Act void by the Congress of the United States, Executive Order of the President of the United States of America, or Judicial Order by the Judicatories of the United States of America which assumes a power not delegated to the government of the United States of America by the Constitution of the United States of America and which serves to diminish the liberty of any of the several States or their citizens are unconstitutional under the Constitution of the United States of America by the government of the United States of America; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and President of the Senate of each state's legislature, and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

The career advancement program is a matching fund program of variable match rates. The general assembly [shall] may make an annual appropriation to the excellence in education fund established under section 160.268, RSMo, for the purpose of providing the state's portion for the career advancement program. The “Career Ladder Forward Funding Fund” is hereby established in the state treasury. Beginning with fiscal year 1998 and until the career ladder forward funding fund is terminated pursuant to this subsection, the general assembly [shall] may appropriate funds to the career ladder forward funding fund. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, to the contrary, moneys in the fund shall not be transferred to the credit of the general revenue fund at the end of the biennium. All interest or other gain received from investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. 2. The department of elementary and secondary education, at the direction of the commissioner of education, shall study and develop model career plans which shall be made available to the local school districts. These state model career plans shall:

(1) Contain three steps or stages of career advancement;

(2) Contain a detailed procedure for the admission of teachers to the career program;

These criteria shall clearly describe the minimum number of professional responsibilities required of the teacher at each stage of the plan and shall include reference to classroom performance evaluations performed pursuant to section 168.128;

(4) Be consistent with the teacher certification process recommended by the Missouri advisory council of certification for educators and adopted by the department of elementary and secondary education;

All teachers seeking admission to any career plan shall, as a minimum, meet the requirements necessary to obtain the first renewable professional certificate as provided in section 168.021;

(6) Provide procedures for appealing decisions made under career plans established under sections 168.500 to 168.515.

3. The commissioner of education shall cause the department of elementary and secondary education to establish guidelines for all career plans established under this section, and criteria that must be met by any school district which seeks funding for its career plan.

4. A participating local school district may have the option of implementing a career plan developed by the department of elementary and secondary education or a local plan which has been developed with advice from teachers employed by the district and which has met with the approval of the department of elementary and secondary education. In approving local career plans, the department of elementary and secondary education may consider provisions in the plan of the local district for recognition of teacher mobility from one district to another within this state.

5. The career plans of local school districts shall not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, religion, national origin, color, creed, or age. Participation in the career plan of a local school district is optional, and any teacher who declines to participate shall not be penalized in any way.

6. In order to receive funds under this section, a school district which is not subject to section 162.920, RSMo, must have a total levy for operating purposes which is in excess of the amount allowed in section 11(b) of article X of the Missouri Constitution; and a school district which is subject to section 162.920, RSMo, must have a total levy for operating purposes which is equal to or in excess of twenty-five cents on each hundred dollars of assessed valuation.

7. The commissioner of education shall cause the department of elementary and secondary education to regard a speech pathologist who holds both a valid certificate of license to teach and a certificate of clinical competence to have fulfilled the standards required to be placed on stage III of the career program, provided that such speech pathologist has been employed by a public school in Missouri for at least five years and is approved for placement at such stage III by the local school district.

8. Beginning in fiscal year 2012, the state portion of career ladder payments shall only be made available to local school districts if the general assembly makes an appropriation for such program.

Payments authorized under sections 168.500 to 168.515 shall only be made available in a year for which a state appropriation is made. Any state appropriation shall be made prospectively in relation to the year in which work under the program is performed.

9. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit a local school district from funding the program for its teachers, for work performed in years for which no state appropriation is made available.

168.515. 1. Each teacher selected to participate in a career plan established under sections 168.500 to 168.515, who meets the requirements of such plan, [shall] may receive a salary supplement, the state's share of which shall be distributed under section 163.031, RSMo, equal to the following amounts applied to the career ladder entitlement of section 163.031, RSMo:

(1) Career stage I teachers may receive up to an additional one thousand five hundred dollars per school year;

(2) Career stage II teachers may receive up to an additional three thousand dollars per school year;

(3) Career stage III teachers may receive up to an additional five thousand dollars per school year. All teachers within each stage within the same school district shall receive equal salary supplements.

2. The state [shall] may make payments pursuant to section 163.031, RSMo, to the local school district for the purpose of [reimbursing] providing funding to the local school district for the payment of any salary supplements provided for in this section, subject to the availability of funds as appropriated each year and distributed on a variable match formula which shall be based on assessed valuation of the district for the second preceding school year.

3. In distributing these matching funds, school districts shall be ranked by the assessed valuation for the second preceding school year per weighted average daily attendance from the highest to the lowest and divided into three groups. Group one shall contain the highest twenty-five percent of all public school districts, groups two and three combined shall contain the remaining seventy-five percent of all public school districts. The districts in groups two and three shall be rank-ordered from largest to smallest based on enrollment as of the last Wednesday in September during the second preceding school year, group two shall contain twenty-five percent of all public school districts that are larger on the enrollment-based rank-ordered list and group three shall contain the remaining fifty percent of all public school districts. Pursuant to subsection 4 of this section, districts in group one shall receive forty percent state funding and shall contribute sixty percent local funding, group two shall receive fifty percent state funding and shall contribute fifty percent local funding and group three shall receive sixty percent state funding and shall contribute forty percent local funding.

4. The incremental groups are as follows:

Group	Percentage of Districts	Percentage of State Funding	Percentage of Local Funding
1	25%	40%	60%
2	25%	50%	50%
3	50%	60%	40%

5. Beginning in the 1996-97 school year, any school district in any group which participated in the career ladder program in 1995-96 and paid less than the local funding percentage required by subsection 4 of this section shall increase its local share of career ladder costs by five percentage points from the preceding year until the district pays the percentage share of cost required by subsection 4 of this section, and in no case shall the local funding percentage be increased by a greater amount for any year. For any district, the state payment shall not exceed the local payment times the state percentage share divided by the local percentage share. Except as provided in subsection 10 of this section, any district not participating in the 1995-96 school year or any district which interrupts its career ladder program for any subsequent year shall enter the program on the cost-sharing basis required by subsection 4 of this section.

6. Not less than every fourth year, beginning with calendar year 1988, the general assembly, through the joint committee established under section 160.254, RSMo, shall review the amount of the career pay provided for in this section to determine if any increases are necessary to reflect the increases in the cost of living which have occurred since the salary supplements were last reviewed or set.

7. To participate in the salary supplement program established under this section, a school district may submit to the voters of the district a proposition to increase taxes for this purpose. If a school district's current tax rate ceiling is at or above the rate from which an increase would require a two-thirds majority, the school board may submit to the voters of the district a proposition to reduce or eliminate the amount of the levy reduction resulting from section 164.013, RSMo. If a majority of the voters voting thereon vote in favor of the proposition, the board may certify that seventy-five percent of the revenue generated from this source shall be used to implement the salary supplement program established under this section.

8. In no case shall a school district use state funds received under this section nor local revenue generated from a tax established under subsection 7 of this section to comply with the minimum salary requirements for teachers established pursuant to section 163.172, RSMo.

9. Beginning in the 1996-97 school year, for any teacher who participated in the career program in the 1995-96 school year, continues to participate in the program thereafter, and remains qualified to receive career pay pursuant to section 168.510, the state's share of the teacher's salary supplement shall continue to be the percentage paid by the state in the 1995-96 school year, notwithstanding any provisions of subsection 4 of this section to the contrary, and the state shall continue to pay such percentage of the teacher's salary supplement until any of the following occurs:

(1) The teacher ceases his or her participation in the program; or

(2) The teacher suspends his or her participation in the program for any school year after the 1995-96 school year. If the teacher later resumes participation in the program, the state funding shall be subject to the provisions of subsection 4 of this section.

10. Any school district that participated in the career ladder program prior to the 2001-02 school year but ceased its participation at any time from July 1, 2001, to July 1, 2005, may resume participation in the program no later than July 1, 2006, at the same matching level, pursuant to subsections 4 and 5 of this section, for which the district qualified during its last year of participation.”; and
